

Comfort Women and Post-Occupation Corporate Japan

Caroline Norma

Contents

Dedication	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Series editor's foreword	ix
 Introduction	 1
 1 Corporate subcontracting of sexual and social imperatives	 45
2 Finding the state in the sex industry of the high growth era	67
3 The 1950s new deal of the post-occupation patriarchal state	73
4 Ian ryokou workplace getaway trips	100
5 Hostess bars and corporate entertaining in the 1960s	113
6 Corporate kisaeng prostitution tourism	131
 Conclusion: Prostitution as an institution of the peacetime state	 152
 Bibliography	 159
Index	175