

Table of Contents

Introduction: Regional Images and Regional Realities . . . . .	7
Lothar Hönnighausen (Bonn)
Regional Culture in an Age of Global Communication . . . . .	15
Friedrich Fürstenberg (Bonn)
Regionalism and Globalism in Comparative Perspective . . . . .	23
James Peacock (Chapel Hill)
The Significance of Region in Recent American and German Historiography . . . . .	27
Paul Nolte (Bielefeld)
Political Regionalism in the United States . . . . .	39
Georg Schild (Bonn)
Discourse Sites of Resistance? Regionalism, Globalism, and American Studies . . . . .	47
Walter Grünzweig (Dortmund)
The Question of Regional Culture in Intercultural Learning . . . . .	57
Jürgen Donnerstag (Köln)
Ignore / Region: Some Remarks on Regionality and Contemporary Fiction . . . . .	69
Richard Martin (Aachen)
Crime Settings: Regional Aspects of Detective Fiction from North America . . . . .	79
Gundula Wilke (Osnabrück)
Poland a la Montana: New Deal Photographers in Postwar Europe	97
Christoph Ribbat (Bochum)
Images of Regional Identity in a European Country: The Hungarian Example . . . . .	111
Heijo Klein (Bonn)
National Sublime and Tourist Region: The Hudson River Valley and Nineteenth-Century American Culture: . . . . .	119
Claus Daufenbach (Bonn)

The Reformation of Manners and the Shaping of Puritan Regional Cultures: Transition and Transferal of Moral Prosecution from East Anglia to Massachusetts . . . . .	135
Robert v. Friedeburg (Bielefeld)
Regional Frameworks and Networks:
Changing Identities in the Southeastern United States . . . . .	149
David Moltke-Hansen (Chapel Hill)
The United States South and the Italian Mezzogiorno:
Where does a Comparison Lead? . . . . .	171
Anna Maria Martellone (Firenze)
Dixiology's False Dichotomies . . . . .	183
John Shelton Reed (Chapel Hill)
"That Delicate Flying Foot":
South Florida as Region and Metaphor . . . . .	193
Paul Ashdown (Knoxville)
Texas Cultures / The Uses of Regionalism . . . . .	205
Wolfgang Karrer (Osnabrück)
From a White Eldorado to the Site of Multicultural Contestation:
Rethinking Literary Los Angeles . . . . .	213
Ingrid Kerkhoff (Wuppertal)
Elvis and El Vez:
Regionalizing the Global – Globalizing the Regional . . . . .	235
Hanjo Berressem (Bielefeld)
Regions of the Self:
Theodore Roethke's North American Sequence . . . . .	249
Frank J. Kearful (Bonn)
Regionalism and the Pacific Rim: The Example of Vancouver . . .	271
Eva-Marie Kröller (Vancouver)
Regions and Regionalism:
Are They Still Relevant Terms in the Global Age? . . . . .	283
Lothar Hönnighausen (Bonn)
Index of Names . . . . .	303