

CONTENTS

Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgements	x
List of Contributors	xi
Introduction	1
Alan Forrest and Matthias Middell
SECTION I
Global repercussions of the French Revolution	21
1 The French Revolution in the global world of the eighteenth century	23
Matthias Middell
2 The sister republics, or the ephemeral invention of a French republican commonwealth	39
Pierre Serna
3 Revolution in France, revolutions in the Caribbean	61
Frédéric Régent
4 The French Revolution in Spanish America	77
Michael Zeuske
5 The Republic and the Muslim world: for a regenerated Mediterranean system	97
Rachida Tlili Sellaouti

6	The French Revolution and the Islamic world of the Middle East and North Africa Ian Coller	117
SECTION II
Topics of a transnational history of the French Revolution: comparisons		135
7	Cross-channel entanglements: 1689–1789 Robert Howell Griffiths	137
8	Atlantic entanglements: comparing the French and American Revolutions David Andress	159
9	Japan's Meiji Revolution: an alternative model of revolution? Hiroshi Mitani	175
SECTION III
Topics of a transnational history of the French Revolution: entanglements		189
10	War and cultural transfer in Europe Alan Forrest	191
11	Napoleon and Europe: the legacy of the French Revolution Annie Jourdan	207
12	Irish revolutionaries and the French Revolution Ullán Gillen	225
13	British radicals and revolutionary France: historiography, history and images Pascal Dupuy	241
SECTION IV
Traditions of seeing and interpreting the French Revolution		261
14	The French Revolution seen from the Terres Australes Peter McPhee	263
15	The evolution of Russian discourse on the French Revolution Alexander Tchoudinov	277

16	Revolutionary violence of the French type and its influence on the Chinese Revolution Gao Yi	299
	Bibliography	321
	Index	345