

Contents

1. Introduction	1
1.1 Enter the Anthropocene.....	1
1.2 Writing Italian Nature.....	5
1.3 Methodology.....	12
1.3.1 Literature Review.....	13
1.3.2 Theoretical Approach.....	23
1.4 Conclusion.....	29
2. Locality 1: Chemical Pollution	31
2.1 A Toxic Tour through “La terra dei fuochi”.....	37
2.1.1 The Mechanisms of Gomorra.....	38
2.1.2 Saviano’s Narrative Strategies.....	44
2.2 Violent Metaphors: Delta blues	51
2.2.1 A Delta of Intersecting Texts.....	54
2.2.2 Fast and Slow Violence.....	59
2.2.3 Zen Archery.....	72
2.3 Waste and Gold: Previsioni del tempo	74
2.3.1 Criminal Midas.....	77
2.3.2 A Landscape of the Mind.....	86
2.4 Conclusion.....	91
3. Locality 2: Changes in Land Use	93
3.1 A Look at Our Changing Landscapes.....	93
3.1.1 Narrating Land Use Change in the Twentieth Century.....	96
3.1.2 The Foundations of Criminal Wealth.....	99
3.2 A Story of Places and People: Rovina	101
3.2.1 The Structure of Ruin.....	103
3.2.2 A Landscape of Denial.....	107

3.3 Wild Passions and Wildfires: Fuoco!	113
3.3.1 A Burning Issue: Wildfires in Italy.....	114
3.3.2 Teenage Treehuggers and Adult Dolts.....	117
3.4 Bloodied Cement Handprints: Gomorra	123
3.4.1 The System.....	124
3.4.2 The Materiality of Cement.....	130
3.5 Conclusion.....	137
4. Translocality.....	139
4.1 Transcending Political Frames.....	139
4.2 Uncanny Hyperobjects: Sirene	141
4.2.1 Imagining an Uncannily Imminent Future.....	142
4.2.2 Black Gods: Sirene's Hyperobjects.....	152
4.3 A Climate of Fear: E poi la sete	160
4.3.1 Literary Writing: The How and the Why.....	160
4.3.2 Envisioning Hyperobjects: Climate Fiction.....	162
4.4 Conclusion.....	169
5. Conclusions.....	171
5.1 Reviewing Premises and Findings.....	171
5.2 Looking Forward to Future Directions.....	172
Appendix A. Intervista a Jadel Andretto, Kai Zen.....	177
Appendix B. Intervista a Laura Pugno.....	183
Appendix C. Intervista a Wu Ming 2.....	189
Works Cited.....	195