

Table of Contents

JILL BEPLER and SVANTE NORRHEM
Introduction .....	9
Cultural transfer and exchange
VOLKER BAUER
Connecting Courts, Castles, Capitals
Cultural exchange in the Early Modern society of princes .....	19
ALMUT BUES
Inventories and the Movement of Objects .....	35
Genres and Materials
CATHARINE MACLEOD
Facing Europe: the Portraiture of Anne of Denmark (1574–1619) .....	63
MARGHERITA PALUMBO
“I was much courted by the entire English nation”
The English books owned by Sophie of the Palatinate, Electress of Hanover .....	87
ADELINA MODESTI
“Nelle mode le più novelle”
The latest fashion trends (textiles, clothing and luxury fabrics) at the court of Grand Duchess Vittoria della Rovere de’ Medici of Tuscany .....	107
Individual objects transformed
EWA KOCISZEWSKA
Devotion and Unbelief of the Gonzaga Sisters
The Relic of the True Cross in Poland and France .....	133
MARA WADE
Princess Magdalena Sibylle’s Golden Horn
Dynastic women and cultural transfer between Denmark and Saxony .....	153
Gift culture
KATRIN KELLER
Tulips, Tobacco and Parrots
Consorts and their role in the transfer of animals and plants in the second half of the sixteenth century .....	171

MAUREEN CASSIDY-GEIGER
Gender, Dynasty and the Politics of Porcelain
The fact and impact of Meissen gifts to royal women, ca. 1714–50 . . . . .	191
MARÍLIA DOS SANTOS LOPES
A Personal Gift – a Part of Cultural Heritage
The coach brought to Lisbon by Maria Anna of Austria . . . . .	211
JOANNA MARSCHNER
The Ivory Egg
Elisabeth Charlotte, Princess Palatine's gift to Caroline of Ansbach . . . . .	233
About the authors . . . . .	255
Index . . . . .	261