

Table of contents

Preface to the handbook series	v
Acknowledgments	ix

1. Introduction to interpersonal pragmatics Miriam A. Locher and Sage L. Graham	1
---	---

Part I: Theoretical approaches to interpersonal pragmatics

Approaches to politeness and impoliteness

2. Linguistic politeness: Laying the foundations Maria Sifianou	17
3. Linguistic politeness theory and its aftermath: Recent research trails Richard J. Watts	43
4. Politeness in East Asia Shigeko Okamoto	71
5. Researching impoliteness and rudeness: Issues and definitions Derek Bousfield	101

Approaches to interpersonal interpretation drawn from communication studies and social cognitive linguistics

6. Relating Robert B. Arundale	137
7. Social cognition Andreas Langlotz	167

Identity and gender

8. The negotiation of identities Anna De Fina	205
---	-----

xii	Table of contents
9.	Gender and interpersonal pragmatics
	Louise Mullany	225

Part II: Linguistic strategies for interpersonal effects

10.	Mitigation
	Stefan Schneider	253
11.	Respect and deference
	Michael Haugh	271
12.	Swearing
	Karyn Stapleton	289
13.	Humour
	Stephanie Schnurr	307

Part III: Interpersonal issues in different contexts

14.	Interpersonal issues in the workplace
	Bernadette Vine	329
15.	Interpersonal issues in court: Rebellion, resistance and other ways of behaving badly
	Janet Cotterill	353
16.	Interpersonal issues in health discourse
	Boyd Davis	381
17.	Interpersonal issues in political discourse
	José Luis Blas Arroyo	405
18.	Interpersonal issues in the discourse of dating ads
	Carol Marley	435
	About the authors	463
	Subject index	469
	Author and name index	486