

CONTENTS

PREFACE, by Herman Van Der Wee	v
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	VIII
I. GENERAL SURVEYS
ERLING A. ERICKSON : The Great Crash of October, 1929	3
A. COPPÉ, International Consequences of the Great Crisis	13
MARK EYSKENS, The Influence of the Great Depression on Economic Theory	24
II. POLITICAL ASPECTS OF THE GREAT DEPRESSION
KARL ERICH BORN, Government Action against the Great Depression	45
FERNAND BAUDHUIN, Europe and the Great Crisis	59
J. NERÉ, The Depression and World Policy	69
LASZLO M. TIKOS, Waiting for The World Revolution : Soviet Reactions to the Great Depression	76
III. SPECIFIC ECONOMIC FACTORS IN THE GREAT DEPRESSION
MICHAEL TRACY, Agriculture in the Great Depression. World Market Developments and European Protectionism	91
WAYNE D. RASMUSSEN and JANE M. PORTER, Agriculture in the Industrial Economies of the West during the Great Depression, with Special Reference to the United States	120
HANS JAEGER, Business in the Great Depression	134

IV. ECONOMIC EFFECTS OF THE GREAT DEPRESSION OUTSIDE THE U.S.A. AND WESTERN EUROPE
HEYWOOD FLEISIG, The United States and the Non-European Periphery during the Early Years of the Great Depression	145
KOZO YAMAMURA, Then Came the Great Depression. Japan's Interwar Years	182
IAN M. DRUMMOND, The British Empire Economies in the Great Depression	212
HANS RAUPACH, The Impact of the Great Depression on Eastern Europe	236
V. SOCIAL AND SOCIOLOGICAL ASPECTS OF THE GREAT DEPRESSION
JAN DHONDT, Government, Labour and Trade Unions	249
R. WAGENFÜHR and W. VOSS, Trade Unions and the World Economic Crisis. The Case of Germany	258
H.W. VON DER DUNK, The Depression and the Intellectuals	269
BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	279
INDEX	283