

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
PART I. ISSUES IN THE USES OF RESEARCH	1
1. Applying Social Research in the Third World: What Determines the Consumption of Research Arthur J. Field	3
PART II. ISSUES IN POLITICAL CHANGE	21
2. The Norm of Illegitimacy: Toward a General Theory of Latin American Political Development Irving Louis Horowitz	25
3. Peasant Organizations in the Process of Political Modernization: The Latin American Experience Gerrit Huizer	49
4. Aristocracy, Oligarchy, and Cultural Change in Columbia Andrew Hunter Whiteford	63
PART III. ISSUES IN RURAL AND URBAN LABOR	93
5.. Rural Development and Employment Prospects Solon Barraclough	97
Informal Author's Summary	121
6. Industrial and Agricultural Employment Prospects in Latin America Arthur L. Domike	137
7. Industrialization and Labor in Peru . . . David Chaplin	165
Informal Author's Summary	181
Discussion	186
8. Urbanization and the Incorporation of the Peasant . . . Andrew Pearse	201
Informal Author's Summary	210
9. Realistic Models of Peasant Farming . . James M. Blaut	213
Discussion	216

PART IV. ISSUES IN URBANIZATION	225
10. Brazil and the Myth of Urban Rurality: Urban Experience, Work, and Values in the "Squatments" of Rio de Janeiro and Lima Anthony and Elizabeth Leeds	229
Informal Authors' Summary	273
11. Political Aspects of Urbanization in Mexico	287
Martin C. Needler
About the Authors	301