

Contents

1. Introduction.....	11
2. Romanticism: An Attempt at Definition.....	13
3. Wilhelm Müller: An Extraordinary Poet behind an Ordinary Name.....	33
4. Franz Schubert: Creator of the German Lied.....	41
5. Willa Cather: A European-American.....	59
5.1. Notes on American Culture.....	59
5.2. Willa Cather in Context.....	62
5.3. From East to West: Cather's Reculturation.....	66
5.4. From West to East: The Emergent Writer.....	70
5.5. The Work: Where Europe and America Meet.....	73
6. Willa Cather and Franz Schubert: Parallels in Aesthetics.....	85
6.1. Art as a Form of Escapism.....	85
6.2. Modernism.....	90
6.3. Aesthetics of the Schubert Song.....	94
6.4. Aesthetics of the Intangible.....	97
7. Winterreise (Winter Journey).....	103
7.1. Rejected Love	103
7.2. The Wanderer.....	105
7.3. Failed Socialization.....	110

7.4. Duality of Nature	114
7.5. The Journey Motif.....	118
7.6. Winterreise as a Work of Art	128
8. Lucy Gayheart	133
8.1. Intertextuality.....	133
8.2. Divided Selves	141
8.2.1. Lucy	141
8.2.2. Clement Sebastian	146
8.2.3. Harry Gordon	149
8.3. Configured to Cohere	153
8.4. Unlived Love	156
8.5. Isolation	163
8.5.1. Lucy: Caught in Marginality.....	163
8.5.2. Harry's Desocialization	168
8.5.3. Sebastian: Life in Transit.....	169
8.6. Lucy's Visions of Nature	172
8.7. Interlacing Journeys	180
9. Conclusion: From Romanticism to Modernism.....	191
Bibliography.....	197