

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
1 Class: before and after. A preview	1
2 From rank to class	34
From the management of surplus to the management of people	38
The birth of the factory	51
The bid for total control	59
3 The self-assembly of class	76
The power-assisted unification	79
Memory against power	88
The 'economisation' of class conflict	100
4 The tendency of industrial society: an interim summary	113
5 Corporatism and its discontents	125
Economisation of politics	129
Corporatism, or simulated politics	136
The ultimate limits of economised politics	144
Split classes, or split souls?	156
6 New contradictions, new victims	164
The limits of social engineering	165
The rise and fall of economic growth ...and some possible consequences	171
The phenomenon of cumulative deprivation	179
Re-politicisation of politics	185
Notes	192
Index	207