

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1.
The Issues	1
2.
The Cognitive Interpretation of Social Class Identification	13
The Measure of Social Class Identification	14
The Subjective Meaning of Social Class Identification	22
Conclusions	39
3.
Affective and Interpretive Implications of Class Identification	42
Affective Class Bonds	43
Interpretations of Class Distinctions	53
Perception of Class Interests	58
Conclusions	68
4.
Socioeconomic Standing and Class Identification	70
Effects of Occupational Standing	71
Education, Occupational Status, and Earned Income	77
Final Note on the Manual/Nonmanual Distinction	90
Conclusions	93
5.
Elaborating the Effects of Income and Occupational Status	96
Effects of Capital Ownership	96
Effects of Work Experiences	109
Conclusions	120
6.
Cognitive and Affective Issues in Class Identification	122
Personal Definitions of Class	122
Comprehension and Understanding of Class	129
Affective Significance of Class	131
Conclusions	137

7.
Family Influences on Subjective Class		139
Wives' and Husbands' Contributions to Class Identification	140
Family of Origin and Subjective Class	152
Conclusions	164
8.
Social Contacts and Subjective Class		166
How Heterogeneous are Social Contacts?	170
Social Contacts and Class Identification	178
Social Contacts and Class Feelings	185
Status Homogeneity of Social Contacts Among Blacks	187
Conclusions	188
9.
Social and Political Implications of Class Identification		190
Class and Social Predispositions	193
Class and Political Orientation	201
Implications	213
10.
Social Class: Conclusions		216
Bibliography		221
Index		227