

Contents

Acknowledgements VII

Introduction: Passages à l'acte: Political and Textual Violence in Francophone Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures 1

- 1 Colonial Sexting: Homoerotic Voyeurism in La Femme et l'Homme nu
by Pierre Mille and André Demaison, and Makako, singe d'Afrique
by Herman Grégoire 24
- 2 "Entre hommes et sous l'équateur": Colonial Masculinity, Race and Desire in Makako, singe d'Afrique 39
- 3 Nothing but a Thing: The African Male as Fetishist and Fetish in La Femme et l'Homme nu 58
- 4 Loving the Alien: Rape of the African Immigré in Ousmane Sembene's
Le Docker noir and Saïdou Bokoum's Chaîne 76
- 5 Is Looking Merely the Opposite of Doing? Rape and Representation in Le Docker noir 89
- 6 "L'homme de couleur et le blanc": Interracial Desire and the Fear of the Queer in Chaîne 103
- 7 Civil Servant Whores and Neocolonial Slum-Johns in Sony Labou Tansi's
Je soussigné cardiaque and Williams Sassine's Mémoire d'une peau 126
- 8 The Space Between: Bisexuality, Intersexuality, Albinism and the Postcolonial State in Mémoire d'une peau 146
- 9 Must la victime Be Feminine? Postcolonial Violence, Gender Ambiguity, and Homoerotic Desire in Sony Labou Tansi's *Je soussigné
cardiaque* 169

Works Cited 193

Index 209