

Contents

Preface v

PART ONE THEORY 1

1 The Problem of Definition 3

Popular Characteristics of the Left 3

Advocacy of Change 3

Political Ideals 5

Advocacy of Economic Democracy 9

Tradition of Dissent 10

Rationalism and Ideology 12

Historical Roles 14

The Left as Opposition 15

The Left as Negation 16

The Left as a Generational Experience 17

The Left as an Ally of the Working Class 20

Notes 25

2 The New Intellectuals 27

The Left Intellectual 28

Conflict with Marxian Socialists 28

Walling, Lippmann, and Eastman 31

The Historical Consciousness of the Left 34

The Role of Dewey and James 34

The Task of Mind 36

Notes 38

3 Strangers in the Land: The Proletariat and Marxism 39

Farmers and Industrial Workers 40

The Utopian Tradition 49

The Marxist Background 54

Three Leaders in American Socialism 63

Debs 63

DeLeon 65

Haywood 67

Notes 69

PART TWO HISTORY 71

4 The Lyrical Left 73

Early Raptures 74

Politics and Art 75

Diversity of Appeal 78

The New Review and The New Masses 79

Challenges and Conflict 81

War and the State 81

Bolshevism: The Triumph 88

Bolshevism: The Disenchantment 94

The Odysseys of Reed and Eastman: Two Patterns of Disillusionment 96

Reed 96

Eastman 100

Notes 105

5 The Old Left 107

The Depression and Communism 108

The Popular Front 121

The Critique of Marxism: Legacy of the Old Left 136

Sociology: From Marx to Tocqueville 136

Economics: From Marx to Keynes 138

Political Science: From Marx to Madison 140

Theology: From Marx to Kierkegaard 142

Literature: From Marx to Melville 143

American History: From Marx to Locke 145

Philosophy: From Marx to James 148

Pessimism and Relevance: The Gulf Between 151

Notes 152

6 The New Left 155

From Alienation to Activism 157

Antecedent Lefts: Differences and Similarities 162

From Port Huron to Peking 168

The Civil Rights Movement 168

Students for a Democratic Society 169

Progressive Labor Party 171
Offshoots of the Old 172
Black Militants 173

Decline with Influence 176

The Agency of Change 176
The Vietnam War 177
Repression 180
Factionalism and Suicidal Extremism 182

The "New Consciousness" and Herbert Marcuse 186

Notes 195

Photo Credits 197

Index 199