

Contents

The Medicalization of Popular Culture: Epistemological, Ethical and Aesthetical Structures of Biomedical Knowledge as Cultural Artefact	1
Arno Görge, German Alfonso Nunez, and Heiner Fangerau
Part I Theories and Methods
Knowledge Production Between Popular Culture and Scientific Culture	15
David A. Kirby
Cool Geeks, Dangerous Nerds, Entrepreneurial Scientists and Idealistic Physicians? Exploring Science and Medicine in Popular Culture	25
Joachim Allgaier
Biomedicine and Bioethics	41
Heiner Fangerau and Gisela Badura-Lotter
Advantages and Disadvantages of Pop-Cultural Artifacts for Exploring Bioethical Issues	57
Sandra Shapshay
Narrative	71
Hans-Joachim Backe
Rhetoric of Popular Culture and Representations of Biomedicine	79
Barry Brummet
Popular Culture and the Dissemination of Knowledge	89
John Storey
Images and Self-Evidence	95
Michael Martin and Heiner Fangerau

The Visual Claim Within Medical Science and Popular Culture	115
Angela Schröder
Part II Case Studies
Medicalized Screens from the Cold War to the Social Web	125
Kirsten Ostherr
Insights into Insights: Visual Narratives of Medical Imaging and Intervention Technologies and the Popular Viscourse	139
Anna L. Roethe
The Audiovisual Process of Creating Evidence – Science Television Imagining the Brain	157
Regina Brückner and Sarah Greifenstein
Medical History’s Graphic Power in American True-Adventure Comic Books of the 1940s	179
Bert Hansen
Medical Narratives in the South African Novel: Case Study of Chris Karsten’s Trilogy The Skin Collector (2012), The Skinner’s Revenge (2013) and Face-Off (2014)	195
Karen Ferreira-Meyers
Dis/ability: The Construction of Norms and Normality in Popular Culture	207
Simon Ledder and Catharina Münte
Popular Narratives of the Cochlear Implant	229
Anna Grebe, Robert Stock, and Markus Spöhrer
Between Utopia and Dystopia: Contemporary Art and Its Conflicting Representations of Scientific Knowledge	245
German Alfonso Nunez
With Great Power Comes Changing Representations: From Radiation to Genetics in the Origin of Spider-Man	259
Simon Locke
Music in Serious Games as a Healing Factor	271
Yvonne Stingel-Voigt
Autonomy, Heteronomy, and Bioethics in BioShock	283
Arno Görgen and Matthis Krischel
The Scientific Enterprise Illustrated: Abduction, Discovery and Creativity	301
Fabrizio Augusto Poltronieri

Using Case Studies from Popular Culture to Teach Medical Physiology	307
Ronan M. G. Berg
Part III Social Implications
Consuming, Experiencing, and Governing: Setting the Scene for Public Encounters with Biomedicine	323
Anda Adamsone-Fiskovica
Bias by Medical Drama. Reflections of Stereotypic Images of Physicians in the Context of Contemporary Medical Dramas	337
Moritz Köhler, Claudia Förstner, Maximilian Zellner, and Michael Noll-Hussong
The Medical, Social, and Cultural Construction and Production of Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder	351
Arno Görgen
Socialist Advertising. Health Education in East German Television	371
Philipp Osten	