

Contents

Acknowledgements 7

Introduction: Re-Discovering the Older Woman 9

Part I: Women and Literary Creativity through the Lifespan

MARTA MIQUEL-BALDELLOU

“The only thing to do is to carry on, and the storm will blow over.” The Aging Process of Daphne du Maurier’s Writing-Persona in Her Late Short Fiction..... 23

NÚRIA CASADO-GUAL

Mapping the Journey ‘between One’s Origins and One’s Achievements’: Joanna McClelland Glass’ Dramaturgical Creativity..... 51

MARICEL ORÓ-PIQUERAS

Fictionalising Biography Throughout the Life-course: Creative Memory in Penelope Lively’s Making It Up 81

JOSEPHINE DOLAN

The Cooking of Friendships: Nora Ephron and the Life-Work of “Mediated Intimacy” 103

Part II: Changing Perspectives in the Woman Writer’s Late Literary Production

CARMEN ZAMORANO LLENA

A Brave Old Age: Changes in the Irish Family Trope in Jennifer Johnston’s Later Fiction 129

IEVA STONČIKAITĒ
Erica Jong: From a Youthful Fear of Flying to a More Experienced Landing in Her Late Years	149
 BRIAN WORSFOLD
“That’s the Spirit!” Putting the Past to Rights in A.S. Byatt’s Ragnarök. The End of the Gods (2011).....	173
 MARTA CEREZO-MORENO
Anne Tyler’s Noah’s Compass : Progress towards Wisdom	191
 Part III: Late-Style and the Older Woman Writer
 NÚRIA MINA-RIERA
The Beginning of Lorna Crozier’s Late-Style: A Thematic Change in the Symbol of Snow	225
 SUZANNE BAILEY
P.K. Page, Late-Style, and Gerotranscendence: The “Here/There” of Aging	249
 SARAH FALCUS
Wicked Weldon: The ‘F Word’ and the Older Woman.....	273
 Notes on contributors	295