

CONTENTS

1	Tracking the Literature of Tropical Weather Anne Collett, Russell McDougall, and Sue Thomas	1
2	Tropical Cyclones in Mauritian Literature Srilata Ravi	25
3	Pacific Revolt: The Typhoon, Japan and American Imperialism in Melville's Moby Dick Sascha Morrell	45
4	Tropical Modernism in Joseph Conrad's Sea Tales Arnold Anthony Schmidt	67
5	Through the Eye of Surplus Accumulation: Joseph Conrad's The Nigger of the "Narcissus" and Typhoon Sudesh Mishra	89
6	Flood, Storm and Typhoon in Tanizaki Junichirō's The Makioka Sisters Leith Morton	109

7	Cyclones, Indigenous and Invasive, in Northern Australia Russell McDougall	129
8	Salba Istorya/Salba Buhay: Save Story/Save Life: Collaborative Storying in the Wake of Typhoons Merlinda Bobis	151
9	Resistance in the Rubble: Post-San Zenón Santo Domingo from Ramón Lugo Lovatón's Escombros: Huracán del 1930 to Carlos Federico Pérez's La ciudad herida Maria Cristina Fumagalli	177
10	Cycles and Cyclones: Structural and Cultural Displacement in Gisèle Pineau's Macadam Dreams Dawn Miranda Sherratt-Bado	199
11	Catastrophic History, Cyclonic Wreckage and Repair in William Gilbert's The Hurricane and Diana McCaulay's Huracan Sue Thomas	227
12	Hurricane Story (With Special Reference to the Poetry of Olive Senior) Anne Collett	251
	Bibliography	271
	Index	291