

Contents

Preface.....	1
Acknowledgements.....	9
List of Abbreviations.....	11
Chapter 1: Second Language Genre Learning.....	13
1.1 Genre and genre learning .....	13
1.1.1 Genre.....	13
1.1.2 Genre knowledge, genre learning, and learners.....	17
1.2 Research on genre learning.....	20
1.2.1 Genre learning communities.....	20
1.2.2 Genre learning tasks .....	26
1.2.3 Individual factors of genre learning.....	31
1.3 A specific genre focused – learning thesis writing .....	36
1.3.1 Definition and description of the thesis genre .....	36
1.3.2 Thesis writing research .....	37
1.3.3 Learning thesis writing .....	39
1.4 Research focus and design of the current study.....	45
Chapter 2: Theoretical Framework.....	49
2.1 Three strands of theories .....	49
2.2 Mediated action.....	50
2.3 L2 writer characteristics.....	52
2.3.1 Learner autonomy .....	54
2.3.2 Discoursal identity .....	55
2.3.3 Critical language awareness .....	57
2.4 Genre knowledge development .....	59
2.4.1 Multidimensional genre knowledge development .....	59
2.4.2 Metacognitive genre awareness .....	62
2.5 An integrated theoretical framework.....	63

Chapter 3: Research Design and Methodology .....	67
3.1 Research design.....	67
3.2 Research context .....	69
3.3 Participants.....	72
3.4 Methods of data collection.....	73
3.4.1 Interviews .....	73
3.4.2 Documents .....	75
3.5 Research procedures .....	76
3.5.1 Recruitment of participants .....	76
3.5.2 Research sessions.....	77
3.6 Data analysis methods.....	79
3.6.1 Constant-comparative method .....	80
3.6.2 Textual analysis .....	82
3.7 Trustworthiness of the study .....	90
Chapter 4: Genre Learning Actions .....	95
4.1 Responding to explicit instruction .....	95
4.2 Interacting with the course instructor .....	99
4.2.1 Obtaining assistance with writing practice .....	99
4.2.2 Obtaining assistance with research procedures .....	103
4.3 Engaging in writing practice .....	106
4.4 Drawing on discipline-specific subjects .....	108
4.5 Discussion .....	111
4.5.1 Primary access to genre knowledge.....	111
4.5.2 Individualized scaffolding .....	113
4.5.3 Extension of the learning context .....	115
Chapter 5: Individual Factors of Genre Learners.....	117
5.1 English proficiency .....	117
5.1.1 Paraphrasing.....	117
5.1.2 Use of reporting verbs .....	120
5.2 Self-initiative.....	122
5.3 Previous L2 writing experiences.....	127

5.4	Discussion .....	128
5.4.1	Language development and genre learning .....	128
5.4.2	Self-initiative in genre learning .....	130
5.4.3	Re-mediation of prior L2 writing knowledge .....	131
5.4.4	Pragmatic critical awareness .....	133
Chapter 6: Developing Genre Knowledge .....		135
6.1	Formal knowledge .....	135
6.2	Rhetorical knowledge .....	140
6.2.1	Sociorhetorical purpose .....	140
6.2.2	Intertextuality.....	145
6.2.3	Authorial stance .....	150
6.3	Process knowledge.....	155
6.4	Subject-matter knowledge.....	161
6.4.1	Lack of sufficient disciplinary knowledge .....	161
6.4.2	Enhanced understanding of subject matter .....	163
6.5	Discussion .....	167
6.5.1	Developing macro-level and micro-level formal knowledge .....	167
6.5.2	Rhetorical knowledge in instruction-based genre learning .....	169
6.5.3	Process knowledge development in an instructional context.....	173
6.5.4	Interplay between multiple genre knowledge domains .....	175
6.5.5	Characteristics of the learners' genre knowledge and the preparedness of EAP thesis writing class .....	178
Chapter 7: Learning and Teaching in Genre-based Academic Writing Classes .....		183
7.1	An instruction-based genre learning model .....	183
7.1.1	Learning community.....	184
7.1.2	Individual factors of learners .....	187
7.1.3	Genre knowledge .....	190

7.2 Implications for genre-focused academic writing classes.....	191
7.2.1 Scaffolding genre knowledge and metacognitive genre awareness .....	191
7.2.2 Combining genre-focused writing instruction with disciplinary ways of knowing and doing .....	193
7.2.3 Adjusting to individual factors of genre learners .....	195
7.3 Future research on academic genre learning.....	197
References.....	199
Appendix A: An interview guide (students).....	221
Appendix B: An interview guide (the course instructor) .....	227
Appendix C: A guide for keeping process logs.....	229
Appendix D: A sample extract of interview transcripts .....	233
Appendix E: An overview of participants' writing .....	237
Appendix F: A sample of participants' written texts .....	239
Appendix G: A sample extract of participants' process logs.....	241
Appendix H: A sample of discourse-based interviews.....	245
Appendix I: Move-step structure of participants' writing.....	249
Index .....	255