

Contents

Dean James E. Alatis Georgetown University Welcoming remarks	1
Dean James E. Alatis Georgetown University Presentation of the Dean's Medal to Kenneth L. Pike	4
Dean James E. Alatis Georgetown University M.A.K. Halliday: An introduction	6
M.A.K. Halliday International Christian University, Tokyo The act of meaning	7
Dean James E. Alatis Georgetown University Dell Hymes: An introduction	22
Dell Hymes University of Virginia Inequality in language: Taking for granted	23
Peter H. Lowenberg San Jose State University Language transfer and levels of meaning potential in Malaysian English	41
Kamal K. Sridhar State University of New York, Stony Brook Meaning, means, and maintenance	56
Courtney B. Cazden Harvard Graduate School of Education Contested conventions in writing about the law	66
Judith Diamondstone Harvard Graduate School of Education Register or relevance?: Seventh graders write arguments for a mock trial	70

Ruqaiya Hasan Macquarie University, Australia Contexts for meaning	79
Sandra J. Savignon University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Language, communication, social meaning, and social change: The challenge for teachers	104
James Dean Brown University of Hawai'i at Manoa Social meaning IN language curriculum, OF language curriculum, and THROUGH language curriculum	117
John Moran Georgetown University How to ask: Question formation in written representations of spoken French	135
Diane Musumeci University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Content language learning: Symbiosis in the academe	147
Diane Larsen-Freeman School for International Training A nonhierarchical relationship between grammar and communication Part I: Theoretical and methodological considerations	158
Marianne Celce-Murcia University of California, Los Angeles A nonhierarchical relationship between grammar and communication Part II: Insights from discourse analysis	166
Rebecca M. Valette Boston College Proficiency and accuracy: Enemies or allies?	174
Wilga M. Rivers Professor emerita, Harvard University Internationalization of the university: Where are the foreign languages?	179
Margie Berns Purdue University English in Europe: Language pragmatics or language policy	199
Marjorie Bingham Wesche University of Ottawa French immersion graduates at university and beyond: What difference has it made?	208
Joan Morley The University of Michigan EAP oral communication curriculum: Spoken discourse, meaning, and communicative 'pronunciation'	241

Myriam Met Montgomery County (Maryland) Public Schools Teaching language and culture: A view from the schools	259
Charles Ferguson Stanford University, Professor emeritus Principles and parameters in language and society	275
Joshua A. Fishman Yeshiva University and Stanford University Ethnolinguistic democracy: Varieties, degrees, and limits	286
Kenneth L. Pike Summer Institute of Linguistics and The University of Texas at Arlington A brief update on my interest in relating language to philosophy	298
H.G. Widdowson University of London Communication, community, and the problem of appropriate use	305
John M. Swales The University of Michigan Discourse community and the evaluation of written text	316
Nadine O'Connor Di Vito University of Chicago Second culture acquisition: A tentative step in determining hierarchies	324
Peter H. Fries Central Michigan University and Hangzhou University Information flow in written advertising	336
Elif Tolga Rosenfeld Georgetown University When and how old age is relevant in discourse of the elderly: A case study of Georgia O'Keeffe	353
Yamuna Kachru University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign Social meaning and creativity in Indian English speech acts	378
Sai-hua Kuo Georgetown University Formulaic opposition markers in Chinese conflict talk	388
Cecil L. Nelson Indiana State University Sociocultural parameters of intelligibility	403
Stephen Krashen University of Southern California Some new evidence for an old hypothesis	413
Earl W. Stevick Independent researcher Social meanings for how we teach	428

Teresa Pica University of Pennsylvania Communication with second language learners: What does it reveal about the social and linguistic processes of second language learning?	435
Claire Kramsch University of California at Berkeley The dialogic emergence of culture in the language classroom	465
Marcel Danesi University of Toronto Metaphorical competence in second language acquisition and second language teaching: The neglected dimension	489
H.G. Widdowson University of London Perspectives on communicative language teaching: Syllabus design and methodology	501