

Contents

List of Contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Preface John Borneman	xii
Introduction Dieter Haller and Richard Joseph Martin	xiv
Part One Institutions
1 Towards an Intimately “Impure” Ethnography: Considering the Limits of Non-Participant Observation Timothy M. Hall	3
2 When Bodies Talk: Indulging Ethnography Sebastian Mohr	15
3 “She Goes with the Refugees”: Desire and Power Amid the Politics of Asylum in Greece Heath Cabot	27
Part Two Interpellations
4 A Camel Walks into a Brothel: Passing Anxieties in the Sexual Economies of Brazil Gregory Mitchell	47
5 The Anthropologist’s New Clothes: Ethnographic Exposure and BDSM Richard Joseph Martin	59
6 Dating a Gypsy Punk Musician: Cultural Appropriation and Ethnographic Fieldwork Among Brazilian Romanies Diana Budur	73
Part Three Intimacies
7 In Bed with My Informant (and Her Lover/s): Navigating Intimacy and Ethics in Singapore Adlina Maulod	87
8 All Acts of Love and Pleasure are My Rituals: Fieldwork and Erotic Subjectivity in an American NeoPagan Community Susan Harper	101
9 Invulnerable Men and Dangerous Women: Encountering HIV Risk Perception in Urban South Africa Hans Reihling	115

10	Public Vegetarianism and Public Menstruation: Staging Chastity Among Jains in Gujarat Andrea Luithle-Hardenberg	127
Part Four    Incommensurabilities
11	The Naked Fear: Desire and Identity in Morocco Dieter Haller	145
12	Faux Amis: On the Morals of Not Being Gay in Istanbul Samuel Williams	157
13	Im/possibilities in the Field: Lessons from Jerusalem Robert Phillips	169
14	Guide to Further Reading William L. Leap	179
	Notes	183
	References	189
	Index	201