

Contents

Preface	v
I. Historical corpora
The design and analysis of the ARCHER Corpus: A progress report [A Representative Corpus of Historical English Registers] Douglas Biber, Edward Finegan, Dwight Atkinson, Ann Beck, Dennis Burges and Jena Burges	3
A corpus of late Modern English prose David Denison	7
ZEN — Zurich English Newspaper Corpus Udo Fries	17
Description of a corpus of 19th-century English Manfred Görlach	19
A Corpus of Irish English Raymond Hickey	23
Towards a corpus of early American English Merja Kytö	33
The concept of ICAMET (Innsbruck Computer Archive of Middle English Texts) Manfred Markus	41
The Helsinki Corpus of Older Scots Anneli Meurman-Solin	53
Is a grapheme a lexeme? And other problems of definition in the Century of Prose Corpus Louis T. Milić	65

The Helsinki Corpus of English Texts Matti Rissanen	73
The Lampeter Corpus of Early Modern English Tracts Josef Schmied	81
The Cambridge-Leeds Corpus of Early Modern English (c.1600-1800) Susan Wright and Jonathan Hope	91
A communicative corpus of eighteenth century texts Susan Wright	95
The place of genre in the corpus Susan Wright	101
 II. Historical thesauruses, atlases and dictionaries
Historical Thesaurus of English: Progress and plans Christian J. Kay	111
The linguistic analysis of medieval vernacular texts: Two projects at Edinburgh Margaret Laing	121
The Early Modern English Renaissance Dictionaries Corpus: An update Ian Lancashire	143
A corpus of source texts for Johnson's Dictionary Anne McDermott	151
Old English Thesaurus: Progress and plans Jane Roberts	155

III. Encoding and software

Applications of software in the compilation of corpora 165
Raymond Hickey

Network resources 187
Knut Hofland

Some aspects of the recommendations of the Text Encoding Initiative, with special reference to the encoding of language corpora 203
Stig Johansson