

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
------------------	-----

Introduction: Don't Mention the War	i
-------------------------------------	---

Section A: Ethics, Trauma and Interpretation

1	Trauma and Ethics: Telling the Other's Story	ii
2	Traumatic Hermeneutics: Reading and Overreading the Pain of Others	29

Section B: Writing the War: Sartre, Beauvoir, Camus

3	Sartre and Beauvoir: A Very Gentle Occupation?	49
4	Camus's War: L'Etranger and Lettres à un ami allemand	65
5	Interpreting, Ethics and Witnessing in La Peste and La Chute	80

Section C: Prisoners of War Give Philosophy Lessons

6	Life Stories: Ricœur	119
7	Afterlives: Althusser and Levinas	134
8	Levinas the Novelist	148

Section D: Surviving, Witnessing and Telling Tales

9	Testimony/Literature/Fiction: Jorge Semprun	165
10	Elie Wiesel: Witnessing, Telling and Knowing	193
11	Sarah Kofman and the Time Bomb of Memory	218
	Conclusion: Whose War, Which War?	234
	Bibliography	239
	Index	250