

Contents

List of figures	viii
Notes on contributors	xi
Acknowledgements	xvi

PART ONE

Contexts 1

- 1 Introduction: a new historiography of the Nazi medical experiments and coerced research 3
PAUL WEINDLING
- 2 The use and abuse of medical research ethics: the German Richtlinien/guidelines for human subject research as an instrument for the protection of research subjects – and of medical science, ca. 1931–61/64 33
VOLKER ROELCKE
- 3 The Society of German Neurologists and Psychiatrists and research in the context of eugenics and “euthanasia” 57
HANS-WALTER SCHMUHL

PART TWO

Clinics and the sciences 71

- 4 Research on the boundary between life and death: coercive experiments on pregnant women and their foetuses during National Socialism 73
GABRIELE CZARNOWSKI AND SABINE HILDEBRANDT
- 5 August Hirt and the supply of corpses at the Anatomical Institute of the Reichsuniversität Strassburg (1941–44) 100
RAPHAEL TOLEDANO

6	Nazi anthropology and the taking of face masks: face and death masks in the anthropological collection of the Natural History Museum, Vienna	121
	MARGIT BERNER
7	Beyond Spiegelgrund and Berkait: human experimentation and coerced research at the Vienna School of Medicine, 1939 to 1945	138
	HERWIG CZECH
8	Murdering the sick in the name of progress? The Heidelberg psychiatrist Carl Schneider as a brain researcher and “therapeutic idealist”	163
	MAIKE ROTZOLL AND GERRIT HOHENDORF
9	Der Kinderfachabteilung vorzuschlagen : the selection and elimination of children at the Youth Psychiatric Clinic Loben (1941–45)	183
	KAMILA UZARCZYK
PART THREE
	Concentration camps	207
10	Children as victims of medical experiments in concentration camps	209
	ASTRID LEY
11	The story of how the Ravensbrück “Rabbits” were captured in photos	221
	ALEKSANDRA LOEWENAU
12	Rascher and the “Russians”: human experimentation on Soviet prisoners in Dachau – a new perspective	257
	NICHOLA FARRON
13	Heißmeyer’s forgotten victims: tuberculosis experiments on adults in Neuengamme 1944–45	272
	ANNA VON VILLIEZ
PART FOUR
	Legacies	291
14	From witness to indictee: Eugen Haagen and his court hearings from the Nuremberg Medical Trial (1946–47) to the Struthof Medical Trials (1952–54)	293
	CHRISTIAN BONAHE AND FLORIAN SCHMALTZ

15	Informed testimonies: physicians' accounts of Nazi medical experiments in the context of early Czechoslovak war crimes investigations, 1945–48	316
	MICHAL V. SIMUNEK
16	Post-war legacies, 1945–2015: victims, bodies, and brain tissues	337
	PAUL WEINDLING
	Index	365