

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
I. THE ORIGINS OF DIVERSITY	2
Soviet Post-war Policy	4
II. THE MEANING OF FINLANDIZATION	7
The 1982 Presidential Election	10
Self-censorship	12
Finnish Security Policy	13
Economic Aspects	16
Hostage, Model or Trojan Horse?.	16
III. SWEDEN: THE RISING COSTS OF NEUTRALITY	16
Defence Politics: The Cost of Neutrality	17
Changing Attitudes	18
IV. NORWAY: THE KEY TO THE NORTH	21
The Importance of the Kola Peninsula	21
Norwegian Defence	24
Domestic Attitudes in Norway	26
Soviet Policy towards Norway and the Nuclear-free Zone.	27
V. THE GREENLAND-ICELAND-UK GAP	30
Icelandic Attitudes	30
The Alternatives to Keflavik	32
Greenland	33
VI. THE QUESTION OF 'DENMARKIZATION'	33
The Historical Background	34
Danish Threat Perceptions	35
Public Attitudes to Security in Denmark	36
Economic Constraints	37
CONCLUSIONS	38
Nordic Labour Parties: Progressive Radicalization.	39
Soviet Pressure and Nordic Attitudes	40
Impact of 'de-Finlandization' of Finland	42
The Strategic Future	43
NOTES	44