

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments		ix
INTRODUCTION	The “Unprecedented” Internal U.S. Migrations of the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries	1
CHAPTER 1	The Economic and Environmental Displacements during the Great Migration: Precarious Citizenship and Hurston’s Their Eyes Were Watching God	28
CHAPTER 2	The Environmental Displacement of the Dust Bowl: From the Yeoman Myth to Collective Respect and Babb’s Whose Names Are Unknown	67
CHAPTER 3	The Wartime Displacement of Japanese American Incarceration: Disorientation and Otsuka’s When the Emperor Was Divine	109
CHAPTER 4	The Economic Displacement of Mexican American Migrant Labor: Disembodied Criminality to Embodied Spirituality and Viramontes’s Under the Feet of Jesus	154
AFTERWORD	The Mobility Poor of Hurricane Katrina: Salvaging the Family and Ward’s Salvage the Bones	188
Bibliography		199
Index		214