

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	ix
List of Tables, Charts, and Music Examples	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
List of Contributors	xv

The Art of Listening and Its Histories: An Introduction	1
CHRISTIAN THORAU AND HANSJAKOB ZIEMER

PART I LISTENING BEHAVIORS AND EMOTIONS

1. Researching Audience Behaviors in Nineteenth-Century Paris: Who Cares if You Listen?	37
KATHARINE ELLIS
2. The Well-Mannered Auditor: Zones of Attention and the Imposition of Silence in the Salon of the Nineteenth Century	55
JAMES DEAVILLE
3. The Problem of Eclectic Listening in French and German Concerts, 1860–1910	77
WILLIAM WEBER
4. The Crisis of Listening in Interwar Germany	97
HANSJAKOB ZIEMER
5. Listening as a Practice of Everyday Life: The Munich Philharmonic Orchestra and Its Audiences in the Second World War	123
NEIL GREGOR

PART II LISTENING IDEOLOGIES AND INSTRUCTIONS

6. Turning Liebhaber into Kenner: Forkel's Lectures on the Art of Listening, ca. 1780–1785 145
MARK EVAN BONDS
7. Designated Attention: The Transformation of Music Announcements in Leipzig's Concert Life, 1781–1850 163
ANSELMA LANZENDÖRFER
8. Concert Listening the British Way? Program Notes and Victorian Culture 187
CHRISTINA BASHFORD
9. "What ought to be heard": Touristic Listening and the Guided Ear 207
CHRISTIAN THORAU

PART III LISTENING SPACES AND ENCOUNTERS

10. Architectural Acoustics and the Trained Ear in the Arts: A Journey from 1780 to 1830 231
VIKTORIA TKACZYK AND STEFAN WEINZIERL
11. Amateurs and Auditors: Listening to the British Musical Festival, 1810–1835 255
CHARLES EDWARD MCGUIRE
12. The Intimate Art of Listening: Music in the Private Sphere During the Nineteenth Century 277
WOLFGANG FUHRMANN
13. Symmetries in Spaces, Symmetries in Listening: Musical Theater Buildings in Europe ca. 1900 313
GESA ZUR NIEDEN
14. Music in the Air—Listening in the Streets: Popular Music and Urban Listening Habits in Berlin ca. 1900 335
DANIEL MORAT

PART IV LISTENING AND TECHNOLOGIES

15. The Opera-Telephone in Munich: A Short History 357
SONJA NEUMANN
16. First Re-Creations: Psychology, Phonographs, and New Cultures of Listening at the Beginning of the Twentieth Century 373
ALEXANDRA HUI
17. Experiencing High Fidelity: Sound Reproduction and the Politics of Music Listening in the Twentieth Century 395
AXEL VOLMAR

PART V TOWARD AN ART OF LISTENING OF THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY

18. Capturing the Landscape Within: On Writing the History of Experience 421
JAMES H. JOHNSON
19. Listening and Possessing 441
FRED EVERETT MAUS
20. Is Listening to Music an Art in Itself—or Not? 461
WOLFGANG GRATZER
21. “Everybody in the concert hall should be devoted entirely to the music”: On the Actuality of Not Listening to Music in Symphonic
Concerts 477
CHRISTIANE TEWINKEL
- Index* 501