

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Disappearing Traces: Holocaust Testimonials between Ethics and Aesthetics	i
1. “Like an Echo without a Source”: Subjectivity as Witnessing and the Holocaust Narrative	23
2. The Tower of Babel: Holocaust Testimonials and the Ethics of Translation	62
3. Lending an Ear to the Silence Phrase: Holocaust Writing of the Differend	102
4. Poethics of Disappearing Traces: Levinas, Literary Testimony, and Holocaust Art	134
5. “Witnesses against Themselves”: Encounters with Daughters of Absence	168
Epilogue: “To Write Another Book about the Holocaust . . . ”	205
Notes	217
Works Cited	251
Index	265