

Contents

Foreword		ix
Julie B. Todaro
ONE	An Introduction to Information Literacy and Libraries in the Age of Fake News Denise E. Agosto	1
TWO	From Yellow Journalism to Tabloids to Clickbait: The Origins of Fake News in the United States Sharon McQueen	12
THREE	Critical Literacy as an Approach to Combating Cultural Misinformation/Disinformation on the Internet Nicole A. Cooke	36
FOUR	From Information Literacy to Full Participation in Society: Through the Lens of Economic Inequality Mark Winston	52
FIVE	Misinformation and Intellectual Freedom in Libraries Shannon M. Oltmann	66
SIX	Fighting Fake News: The Limits of Critical Thinking and Free Speech Kay Mathiesen	77

SEVEN	Truth, Post-Truth, and Information Literacy: Evaluating Sources Joanna M. Burkhardt	94
EIGHT	We Got This: Public Libraries as Defenders against Fake News Ben Himmelfarb	106
NINE	School Librarians: Partners in the Fight against Fake News Kristen Mattson	115
TEN	Information and Media Literacy Education: The Role of School Libraries Belinha De Abreu	126
ELEVEN	Cultivating Students as Educated Citizens: The Role of Academic Libraries Hailey Mooney, Jo Angela Oehrli, and Shevon Desai	136
TWELVE	“Survey Says . . .”: Developing Students’ Critical Data Literacy Caitlin Shanley and Kristina M. De Voe	151
THIRTEEN	Fake News and Academic Librarians: A Hook for Introducing Undergraduate Students to Information Literacy Carolina Hernandez	167
	About the Editor and Contributors	177
	Index	181