

Table of Contents

Maria Gerolemou

Introduction: In search of the Miraculous — IX

I. Miracles

Andrew Nichols

Ctesias' Indica and the Origins of Paradoxography — 3

Clarisse Prêtre

The Epidaurian Iamata: The first "Court of Miracles"? — 17

George Kazantzidis

Medicine and the paradox in the Hippocratic Corpus and Beyond — 31

Lisa Irene Hau

'One might rightly wonder' – marvelling in Polybios Histories — 63

Sophia Papaioannou

Omens and Miracles: Interpreting Miraculous Narratives in Roman Historiography — 85

András Kraft

Miracles and Pseudo-Miracles in Byzantine Apocalypses — 111

II. Workings of Miracles

Maria Gerolemou

Wonder-ful Memories in Herodotus' Histories — 133

Chrysanthi Demetriou

Wonder(s) in Plautus — 153

Margot Neger

Telling Tales of Wonder: Mirabilia in the Letters of Pliny the Younger — 179

Charles Delattre

Paradoxographic discourse on sources and fountains:
deconstructing paradoxes — 205

Karen ní Mheallaigh

Lucian's Alexander: technoprophecy, thaumatology and the poetics of wonder — 225

III. Believing in Miracles

Christine Hunzinger

Perceiving Thauma in Archaic Greek Epic — 259

Irene Pajón Leyra

Turning Science into Miracle in the Voyage of Alexander the Great — 275

Lydia Langerwerf

'Many are the wonders in Greece': Pausanias the wandering philosopher — 305

Antonis Tsakmakis

Miracles in Greek Biography — 327

Regine May

Apuleius on Raising the Dead Crossing the Boundaries of Life and Death while Convincing the Audience — 353

Donald Lateiner

Recognizing Miracles in ancient Greek Novels — 381

List of Contributors — 417

Index Nominum et Rerum — 423