

Contents

Acknowledgements	9
Preface	11
Chapters
1 The Aesthetics of Samuel Beckett: Essays and Writings	23
1.1 Beckett as Essayist: An Introduction	25
1.2 From Dante to Proust: The Literary Criticism Years	32
1.3 In Dialogue with Van Velde: Painting and Philosophy	53
1.4 Towards an Aesthetics of Disintegration	74
2 Adorno: Interpreter of Beckett	85
2.1 'Trying to Understand Endgame '	88
2.2 Beckett in the Ästhetische Theorie	105
2.3 The Antinomy of Aesthetic Semblance	118
2.4 Beckett Beyond Adorno	135
3 The Cul de Sac of Critique: Beckett's Late Work via Postmodern Philosophy	149
3.1 Beckett and the End of Modernity: A Philosophical Perspective	154
3.2 Where Art Once Resided: The 'Penultimate Images'	177
3.3 The Final (Mute) Shot	191
3.4 The Result of an Art without Qualities	204

4	If the Body is Able to Think: Towards a Philosophy of Theatre	209
4.1	From Eye to Ear: A Differential Shift	211
4.2	'The Self as Object: Philosophy on Stage	224
4.3	Notes from Stagings: Beckett with Grotowski	237
4.4	Self on the Brink	250
	Bibliography	253
	Index	263