

---

CONTENTS

---

|              |    |
|--------------|----|
| Introduction | 13 |
|--------------|----|

---

PART I. DECOLONIZATION AND AFTER

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 1. The Colonial Issue during World War II  | 27  |
| The Future of the Colonial Empires: The Views of the Powers                                | 29  |
| Trusteeship and the United Nations   | 45  |
| Potsdam: Further Decline of U.S. Interest  | 53  |
| 2. The Struggle for Independence as an International Issue:Indochina and Indonesia     | 54  |
| The Japanese Occupation: Contrasts in Political Impact                                     | 56  |
| Taking the Surrender: Contrasting Roles and Consequences                                   | 60  |
| The Metropolitan Governments: Differing Capabilities,Similar Intentions                | 67  |
| The Role of the United Nations   | 69  |
| The Activists: India and Australia   | 73  |
| Fellow Asians and Others   | 78  |
| The Soviet Union and the Communists: National Interestsversus Revolutionary Solidarity | 81  |
| The United States: A Reluctant Role  | 86  |
| 3. New Actors and New Roles on the International Stage                                     | 93  |
| Thailand Restored  | 94  |
| New States: The Philippines  | 101 |
| New States: Burma  | 105 |
| New Roles: Australia and New Zealand   | 108 |
| Hints of Southeast Asian Community   | 111 |
| Moscow and the Communists: From Confusion to Calcutta                                      | 116 |

---

PART II. THE COLD WAR COMES TO SOUTHEAST ASIA

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 4. The Chinese Role Revived                | 125 |
| The Assertion of Revolutionary Leadership  | 127 |
| The Southeast Asian Response: Wait and See | 132 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| The American Response: First Steps toward Involvement           | 137 |
| The British View  | 143 |
| Aid: Winning Hearts and Minds                                   | 144 |
| 5. The Korean War   | 152 |
| Local Roles and Reactions                                       | 154 |
| American Interest Confirmed                                     | 160 |
| Peace with Japan and New Security Arrangements                  | 165 |
| The Reparations Issue   | 174 |
| 6. Between Two Camps  | 177 |
| The Theory and Practice of Neutralism: Burma                    | 178 |
| The Theory and Practice of Neutralism: Indonesia                | 185 |
| The Communist Response: First Steps toward Peaceful Coexistence | 192 |
| 7. Internationalization of the War in Vietnam                   | 197 |
| Emergence of a New State System                                 | 198 |
| The Chinese Impact  | 202 |
| Developing Alliances  | 207 |
| Insurgency Becomes a War  | 212 |

---

PART III. THE GENEVA SETTLEMENT

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 8. The Road to the Conference Table      | 221 |
| France: First Steps toward Disengagement | 225 |
| The United States: A Different View      | 227 |
| Political and Military Problems          | 229 |
| The Dialogue Begins                      | 233 |
| 9. The Preliminaries                     | 238 |
| The Issues: French and British Views     | 241 |
| The Issues: The American Dilemma         | 247 |
| 10. Reaching the Settlement              | 260 |
| The Issues before the Allies             | 268 |
| The Neutralist Voice                     | 276 |
| The Chinese and the Russians             | 279 |
| The Two Vietnams                         | 284 |

---

PART IV. THE TWO DIRECTIONS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 11. S E A T O: Confrontation Symbolized | 291 |
| Preliminaries and Preparations          | 293 |
| Provisions and Structure                | 297 |
| National Positions                      | 298 |
| SEATO and the Taiwan Straits            | 307 |
| 12. Bandung: Coexistence Exalted        | 311 |
| Colombo: The Beginning                  | 312 |
| Bogor: Dynamic Neutralism               | 315 |
| The Conference and After                | 320 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 13. Indochina: Portents for the Future | 334 |
| Cambodia: Assertive Neutralism         | 335 |
| Laos: Uncertain Neutralism             | 339 |
| Vietnam: The Division Hardens          | 342 |
|                                    |     |
| Bibliography                           | 355 |
| Index                                  | 367 |