

Christian Materiality

An Essay on Religion in Late Medieval Europe

Caroline Walker Bynum

ZONE BOOKS · NEW YORK

2011

Contents

PREFACE 13

INTRODUCTION 15

Nicholas of Cusa and the Hosts of Andech 15

The Periodization of Holy Matter 19

Materiality 25

Beyond "the Body" 31

Matter as Paradox 34

I VISUAL MATTER 37

Image Theory 44

The Materiality of Images:

Two Theoretical Considerations 53

The Materiality of Images: Examples 61

Viewer Response 65

Materiality as Self-Referential 66

Material Iconography 82

The Material in the Visionary 101

Living Images 105

The Cross 112

Conclusion 121

II THE POWER OF OBJECTS 125

Two Caveats 127

Definitions and Examples:

Bodily Relics and Contact Relics 131

	Definitions and Examples: Dauerwunder	139
	Definitions and Examples:
	Sacramentals and Prodigies	145
	The Theology of Holy Matter: Relics, Sacramentals, and Dauerwunder	154
	Dissident and Heretical Critiques	163
	The Example of Johannes Bremer	165
	Holy Matter in Social Context	167
	The Case of Wilsnack	171
	Conclusion	175
III	HOLY PIECES	177
	Parts, Wholes, and Triumph over Decay	178
	Theologians and the Problem of Putrefaction	187
	The Contradiction: Fragmentation as Opportunity	192
	A Comparison with Jewish Practice	194
	The Iconography of Parts and Wholes:
	The Example of the Side Wound	195
	Concomitance as Theory and Habit of Mind	208
	Conclusion	215
IV	MATTER AND MIRACLES	217
	Three Examples	220
	Elite and Popular: Again a Caveat	224
	Theories of Miracle as a Way of
	Accessing Assumptions about Matter	227
	The Historiography of Matter	230
	Conceptions of Matter and Change	231
	Change as Threat and Opportunity: A Reprise	239
	Reducing Change to Appearance	241
	Explaining Miracles by Limiting Change	243
	Using Physiological Theories to Contain Miracles	247
	Matter as Dynamic Substratum	250
	Holy Matter as Triumph over Matter	256
	The Materiality of Creation	259

CONCLUSION 267

Reinterpreting the Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries 269

Jews, Muslims, and Christians 273

Theories, Medieval and Modern 280

Again the Paradox 284

NOTES 287

INDEX 399