

Contents

1 Economic Conditions of Indonesia and Vietnam in Pre-independence Era, 1910s–1945	1
1.1 The Late Colonial Period	1
1.1.1 Racial Dimension	2
1.1.2 Economic Structure	5
1.1.3 Colonial Drain	14
1.2 The Japanese Occupation Period	17
1.2.1 Vietnam	17
1.2.2 Indonesia	23
References	32
2 Vietnamese Nationalism and Socialism, 1945–1960s	37
2.1 The DRV Government	38
2.2 From Nationalism to Communism	45
2.3 Economic Transformation	53
2.4 Diệm’s Nationalism	64
References	74
3 The Indonesian Struggle for Survival, 1945–1949	79
3.1 Economic Institutions	80
3.2 The Preferred Economic System	85
3.3 Economic Concessions	94
3.4 Early Economic Transformation	102
3.5 The Return of the Dutch	111
References	115
4 The Indonesian Liberal Democracy, 1950–1957	119
4.1 The Indonesian Cabinets	120
4.2 Re-formulating the National Economy	128

4.3 Indonesianisasi	136
4.4 Entrenched Dutch Position	149
References	154
5 Indonesia's Guided Economy, 1957–1965	159
5.1 The Military-Civil Administration	160
5.2 Ideological Basis of Guided Economy	169
5.3 Takeover and Nationalization	180
5.4 Business Engagement	193
References	204
Conclusion: Convergent Paths	209
Appendix A: Main Export Items in Indonesia, 1948–1959 (Rp. million)	219
Appendix B: Revenue and Expenditure of the Indonesian Government, 1960–1965 (Rp. million)	221
Appendix C: The Contribution of Indonesia to the Dutch National Income, 1954–1957 (million guilders)	223
References	225
Index	239