

CONTENTS

List of figures ix
List of exercises xiii
About the author xvii
About the contributors xix
Background xxi
Preface: Simple but not easy (1) xxiii
Structure of the book xxix
Acknowledgements xxxiii

PART ONE Exploring the fundamentals 1

01 Supply chain: General introduction 3

What is a supply chain? 3
What does the supply chain look like? 8
Summary 13

02 Supply chain: The business dimension 15

Industry perspective: competitive strategy 15
The ‘what’ of the company’s business: customers and value propositions 17
The ‘how’ of the company’s business: competitive advantages 21
The supply chain and a company’s financials: the ‘how much?’ 23
The supply chain as part of a sustainable business 29
Summary 37

03 Supply chain: The technical dimension 39

From corporate strategy to supply chain strategies: typologies 39
Physical infrastructure or network: push/pull, facilities and transportation 44
Forward and backward integration: outsourcing and external collaboration 53
Planning and control: processes, forecasting, inventories, production 57
Information and systems, and organizational aspects 69
Summary 72

04 Supply chain: The leadership dimension 73
Making people move: performance measurement and target setting 73
Stakeholder management, functional silos and corporate culture 76
Trust and coordination: internal collaboration and team performance 77
Trust and coordination: external collaboration and transparency 82
The role of leadership in the supply chain 86
Summary 90

05 Simple but not easy (2): Complexity and alignment 91
Complexity! 91
Trade-offs: you can't have it all 92
Cross-functional alignment: S&OP and IBP 94
Summary 97

PART TWO Mastering the fundamentals 99

06 Knowledge in action with a supply chain simulation: Game on! 101
The Fresh Connection business simulation game 101
Introducing: Team SuperJuice 103
Introducing: Bob McLaren, the owner of our company 103
TFC: the company, the mission, the experience 104
Back to theory for a moment 107
What's wrong with TFC? 108
TFC gameplay: what you need to know 114
Summary 117

07 Mastering the business dimension of the supply chain 119
Competitive strategy 119
Customers and value propositions 121
Supply chain and finance 122
Summary 126

08 Mastering the technical dimension of the supply chain 129
Supply chain strategies 129
Averages kill! 132
Physical infrastructure 134
Planning and control 144
Information and systems 162
Summary 163

09	Mastering the leadership dimension of the supply chain	167
	Performance measurement and target setting	167
	Stakeholder management: functional silos	170
	Trust and coordination: internal collaboration and team performance	171
	Trust and coordination: external collaboration and transparency	176
	Stakeholder management (direct stakeholders)	177
	Summary	179
10	Simple but not easy (3): Complexity and alignment	181
	Supply chain strategies revisited	181
	Complexity!	181
	Making pros and cons explicit: business cases to support decision making	184
	Cross-functional alignment: S&OP	186
	Summary	188
	PART THREE	Imagining beyond the fundamentals
		189
11	The supply chain in a VUCA world	191
	A VUCA world	191
	Visualizing the status quo: business model canvas	192
	Summary	195
12	Imagining business challenges for the supply chain	197
	Market forces: new entrants and tough competition	197
	The need for new business models	201
	Transforming into responsible and green	202
	Changes in the external environment: PESTEL	209
	An emergency!	211
	Managing uncertainties: risk assessment	212
	Summary	214
13	Imagining technical challenges for the supply chain	215
	Challenging the push/pull setup	217
	Challenging capacity	218
	Challenging machine life	220
	Challenging the network design	222
	Challenging segments and channels	223

Contents

Challenging the customer status quo	226
Challenging the value propositions	228
Summary	229

14 Imagining leadership challenges for the supply chain 231

Managing many more stakeholders	231
Supply chain leadership in the VUCA world	234
Managing trust and coordination: external collaboration	235
Summary	239

15 Conclusion – simple but not easy (4): Complexity and alignment 241

Supply chain strategies revisited once more	241
The Fresh Connection: now what?	242
Bob McLaren is back!	245
Closing the loop: the learning cycle of experiential learning	246

Appendix: Experiential learning and The Fresh Connection (extended version) 249

References 255

Index 259