

CONTENTS

1	The Chinese Nation and Nationalities as a Process of Collaborative Knowledge Production	1
2	“Big Family of Fifty-Six Nationalities:” The Chinese Communist Conceptualization of Minzu (1921–1951)	13
1	Marxist-Leninist-Stalinist Discourses on the National Question	14
2	The Chinese Conceptualization of Minzu and Zhonghua Minzu	15
3	Construction of the Chinese Communist Ideology of Nationality	18
4	How the Chinese Communists Departed from the Soviet Model in Nationality Question	22
5	The Communist Party vs. The Nationalist Party	27
6	Broad Nationalism vs. Narrow Nationalism	29
7	Conclusion	32
3	Disciplines and Politics: From Malinowski to “People’s Anthropology”	43
1	Western Anthropology and Its Spread in China	44
2	The Rise of Modern Chinese Anthropology and Ethnology as Disciplines	47
3	Chinese Anthropologists’ Search for Indigenization	51

4	Between the Self and the Other	57
5	Between Academic Disciplines and Politics	61
6	Ethnology vs. Historical Materialism in the PRC	64
7	Conclusion	66
4	Inventing Primitive Society in Chinese Historiography and Ethnology	75
1	High Antiquity in Non-Marxist Chinese Historiography	76
2	Narrating "Primitive Society" in Modern China	81
3	Marxist Historiography and Chinese Primitive Society: The Case of Lü Zhenyu (1900–1980)	84
4	Minority Nationalities and "Primitiveness": The Case of Cen Jiawu (1912–1966)	86
5	Popularizing the Knowledge of Primitive Society to the Public	89
6	Conclusion	95
5	Investigating Southern Minority Nationalities	103
1	Investigation as a Modern Empirical Tradition	104
2	Minority Nationality Identification and Investigation of Their Society and History	107
3	Representing Minority Society	115
4	Brief Histories of Miao, Zhuang, and Buyi	120
5	Conclusion	125
6	Collaboration and Resistance of Minority Elite: Huang Xianfan's Struggle	139
1	The Career of Huang Xianfan as a Zhuang Studies Scholar and Ethnographer	140
2	Huang Xianfan as a Historian	147
3	Was the Zhuang Created?	151
4	Conclusion	153
7	Telling Southern Minority Nationalities to the Public	161
1	The Role of Anthropologists in Building Minority Nationality Museums	162
2	Ethnology vs. Enography: A University Museum of Ethnology in Wuhan	165

3	Yunnan: Ancient Texts of Minority Nationalities	168
4	Guizhou: Crisis of Minority Cultural Phenomena and Dilemma of Buyi Ecomuseum	170
5	Guangxi: The “Na” Cultural Circle and Bronze Drum	174
6	Conclusion	179
Epilogue: “Ghost Master” at Langde: Encountering Miao Shamanism		187
Bibliography		201
Index		227