

CONTENTS

PREFACE AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	ix
CHAPTER ONE/ SUBJECT AND PROGRAMME
1. Introduction	1
2. Quandaries in recent Aristotle research	4
3. The programme of this study	10
Notes to Chapter One	13
CHAPTER TWO/ THE GENERAL DOCTRINE I
SOME THEOREMS AND RULES
1. Multifariousness and common core	15
2. A provisional assumption	16
3. Common properties	16
4. Comparisons	25
Notes to Chapter Two	28
CHAPTER THREE/ THE GENERAL DOCTRINE II
ABSOLUTE AND QUALIFIED MODALITIES
1. Introduction	30
2. Qualified vs. absolute modalities	31
3. Qualified necessity, syllogisms and the proof per impossibile	36
4. Absolute impossibility and the commensurability of the diagonal	45
5. Real and assumed background knowledge	51
6. Relations between temporal and modal concepts	53
Notes to Chapter Three	56
CHAPTER FOUR/ MODALITY AND TIME (I)
THE PRINCIPLE OF PLENITUDE
1. Introduction	59
2. The Principle of Plenitude and its role in Aristotle's modal thinking	60
3. The evidence	65
Notes to Chapter Four	72

CHAPTER FIVE/ MODALITY AND TIME (II)

DE CAELO I.12 AND THE NECESSITY OF WHAT IS ETERNAL

1. The problem	73
2. Williams and the supposed logical errors	74
3. Hintikka and the confusion in Aristotle's "Master Argument"	79
4. Judson and the "grossness of Aristotle's fallacy"	81
5. The metaphysics in De Caelo I.12 as exposed by Waterlow	82
6. De Caelo I.12 and the necessity of what is eternal	87
7. Some extrapolations and the role of hylê phthartê	95
Notes to Chapter Five	101

CHAPTER SIX/ MODALITY AND TIME (III)

DE INTERPRETATIONE 9

1. Introduction	103
2. The traditional views	103
3. De Interpretatione 9 on the statistical reading	106
4. Deliberation and chance events in De Interpretatione 9	110
5. The interpretation	117
Notes to Chapter Six	130

CHAPTER SEVEN/ POSTERIOR ANALYTICS I.4-6

THE DE OMNI-PER SE DISTINCTION

1. Introduction	132
2. Zabarella on Aristotelian necessity	133
3. Inseparable accidents	136
4. A first look at Posterior Analytics I.4-6	137
5. Some commentaries on Posterior Analytics I.4 and 6	140
6. Real or conceptual modalities?	145
7. Aristotle, matter, and definition	149
Notes to Chapter Seven	154

CHAPTER EIGHT/ POSTERIOR ANALYTICS I.4-6

NAMES AND NAMING

1. Abstraction in Metaphysics XIII.3	157
2. Abstraction and naming	160
3. The issue of names and naming	162
4. A new look at Posterior Analytics I.4-6, part one	165
5. Some major differences	170

6. A new look at Posterior Analytics I.4-6, part two	172
7. Belonging kath' hautō and homogeneity	177
8. Homogeneity, the necessity of what is always and the concept of possibility	179
Notes to Chapter Eight	183

CHAPTER NINE/ APODEICTIC SYLLOGISTIC

1. Introduction	185
2. External criticism	186
3. The nature of Aristotle's syllogistic theory	189
4. Apodeictic syllogistic	192
5. Incoherence	194
6. McCall's reconstruction	199
7. The four apodeictic categorical sentences and apodeictic ecthesis	200
8. The apodeictic conversion rules	205
9. The apodeictic Barbaras and domains of discourse	205
10. The status of $A_{\perp uu}$	209
11. The soundness of the inference base	210
12. Conversion rules and shifts of type of predication	212
13. Conclusions	214
Notes to Chapter Nine	216

BIBLIOGRAPHY	219
--------------	-----

INDEX OF NAMES	229
----------------	-----

INDEX OF SUBJECTS	233
-------------------	-----