

Contents

Maps	ix
Illustrations	xi
Preface	xv
Arabic Transliteration	xvii
Part I. Introduction
1. Toward a Definition of Late Antiquity Frank M. Clover and R. Stephen Humphreys	3
2. Teleology and the Significance of Change Michael G. Morony	21
Part II. The Interactions of Cosmopolitan and Local Cultures
3. Hostages, Philosophers, Pilgrims, and the Diffusion of Ideas in the Late Roman Mediterranean and Near East John F. Matthews	29
4. Germanic in the Mediterranean: Lombards, Vandals, and Visigoths Thomas L. Markey	51
5. The Role of Nomads in the Near East in Late Antiquity (400–800 C.E.) Fred M. Donner	73
Part III. Models for a New Present: Romania
6. Potentes and Potentia in the Social Thought of Late Antiquity Jörg A. Schlumberger	89
7. Roman Aristocrats, Christian Commissions: The Carrand Diptych Kathleen J. Shelton	105

8.	Felix Karthago Frank M. Clover	129
9.	Gelimer's Laughter: The Case of Byzantine Africa Averil Cameron	171
10.	Variable Rates of Seventh-Century Change Walter Emil Kaegi, Jr.	191
11.	The Arabesque, the Beveled Style, and the Mirage of an Early Islamic Art Terry Allen	209
Part IV. Models for a New Present: The Qur'ān
12.	The 'Abbasid Dawla : An Essay on the Concept of Revolution in Early Islam Jacob Lassner	247
13.	Qur'anic Myth and Narrative Structure in Early Islamic Historiography R. Stephen Humphreys	271
	Works Cited	293
	Index	335