

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
1. The State of Psychiatric Practice and Knowledge in the Nineteenth Century	11
2. François Leuret and Medical Opposition to Moral Treatment, 1835–1850	38
3. Jacques Moreau de Tours and the Crisis of Somaticism in French Psychiatry, 1840–1860	54
4. Alienism and the Psychiatric Search for a Professional Identity: The Société médico-psychologique, 1840–1870	76
5. French Alienism and Antipsychiatry, 1860–1900	93
6. Hereditarianism, the Clinic, and Psychiatric Practice in Nineteenth-Century France	116
7. Science, Politics, and Psychiatric Hereditarianism in the Nineteenth Century	144
Conclusion: The Social History of Psychiatric Knowledge	162
Notes	173
Index	213