

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	7
1. Death and Disgrace: Some Preliminary Notes	9
1.1. Memory and its destruction	12
1.2. The early form of treason and damnation of memory	14
2. The Problems of Early Roman Historiography:
Res Gestae, Res Fictae, Res Fabulosae ?	16
2.1. Early Rome: text on text?	17
2.2. Titus Livius	18
2.3. Dionysius of Halicarnassus	20
3. The Memory of the Kings and Odium Regni	24
3.1. Consuls of the Tarquins and their fate	25
3.2. The property of the Tarquins	26
3.3. Publius Valerius Publicola and the house in Velia	28
4. Sp. Cassius Vecellinus and the Distribution of Ager Publicus	30
4.1. The case of Sp. Cassius and its historical usage in the political struggles of the late Republic	31
4.2. Sp. Cassius' relations to the neighbouring tribes and peoples	32
4.3. Sp. Cassius, Ceres and corn: signs of aspirations to monarchy?	34
4.4. Iudicium populi or iudicium domesticum ?	36
5. Spurius Maelius and Corn Distribution	39
5.1. The case, its themes and the historical accounts	40
5.2. Iure caesus and the later justification of the death of Sp. Maelius	41
5.3. Private or public counsel?	43
5.4. Regnum , corn and the clients	45
5.5. Maelius' crime and punishment	46
5.6. Why has tradition preserved the memory of Sp. Maelius as especially shameful?	47
6. Marcus Manlius Capitolinus the Saviour of Rome and Seditious Leader of the Plebs	48
6.1. Manlius' policy and the gold collected for the Gauls	49
6.2. Manlius' associates	50
6.3. The Capitol and the Capitolinus	52

6.4. The trial and sentence of Manlius	53
6.5. Gentilicia altera	55
6.6. Marcus Manlius and the meaning of the charge of aspiring to kingship	55
6.7. Gods and Manlius' disgraceful death	57
7. Vitruvius Vaccus and Fides	59
7.1. The sentence on Vitruvius Vaccus	59
7.2. Volscian towns and the spreading of Rome's authority	60
7.3. The role of Semo Sancus as the protector of the Fides	61
7.4. Vitruvius Vaccus and cases of adfectatio regni	63
8. Shame and Sentences Concerning Property in Other Judicial Cases	65
8.1. Coriolanus – a comparable figure to Sp. Cassius?	65
8.2. Decemvir Appius Claudius – an opposite figure to Sp. Maelius	67
8.3. Furius Camillus – a rival of M. Manlius	69
8.4. Titus Menenius	71
8.5. Kaeso Quinctius	71
8.6. Public shame in Roman tradition	72
9. Conclusion	74
9.1. Tyrants or kings?	74
9.2. Who were the aspirants to kingship?	76
9.3. Sanctions and their meaning	77
9.4. Consecration and cults: the links between the cases of the post mortem sanctions and Roman religious thinking	78
9.5. What did the destroying of memory mean in the tradition of early Rome?	80
Bibliography	82
Abbreviations	89
Index I: Post mortem sanctions and other cases	90
Index II: Places and peoples	92
Index III: Modern authors	93
Maps	95–96