

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction and overview Frank Heller	1
I EVIDENCE
1 The pathology of applied research in social science H. Igor Ansoff	19
2 Applying psychology or applied psychology Claude Lévy-Leboyer	24
3 Three projects involving prediction Leslie T. Wilkins	36
4 The misapplication of social science at Unesco Peter Lengyel	54
5 A research programme on the utilization of the social sciences Ansgar Weymann, Ludwig Ellermann and Matthias Wingens	64
6 Social science and social policy: who uses whom? Robert H. Haveman	74
7 The ethics of research in a public enterprise A.J. Berry, T. Capps, D. Cooper, T. Hopper and E.A. Lowe	85
8 Research as action: an experiment in utilizing the social sciences John Gill	99
9 Use and abuse of science Frank Heller	123
II THEORY AND EXPERIENCE
10 Social research as participative dialogue Bjørn Gustavsen	143

11	Research and social policy: political, organizational and cultural constraints Peter Brannen	157
12	Facets of 'relevance' in sociological research John Eldridge	171
13	Policy research under scrutiny Albert Cherns	185
14	Policy research: an analysis of function and structure Mark van de Vall	199
15	Research and policy-making: a limited partnership Carol Hirschon Weiss	214
16	What's the use of social science? A review of the literature Roger S. Karapin	236
	Conclusions Frank Heller	266
	Index	282
	About the contributors	290