

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Introduction

RODERIC H. BLACKBURN
Symposium Coordinator
and Exhibition Curator
page vii

Chronology of Dutch Settlement in New Netherland, 1614-1664

RUTH PIWONKA
Historian and Museum Consultant
page xi

Dutch Material Civilization: Daily Life Between 1650-1776, Evidence from Archeology.

JAN BAART
Head of the Archeological Division of the Department of Public Works Amsterdam, and the Amsterdam Historical Museum
page 1

Archeological Evidence of Dutch Wooden Cellars and Perishable Wooden Structures at Seventeenth-and Eighteenth-Century Sites in the Upper Hudson Valley.

PAUL R. HUEY
Senior Scientist, Archeology
Bureau of Historic Sites
New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation
page 13

New Netherlands Ceramic: Evidence from Excavations of Fort Orange, 1624-1676

CHARLOTTE WILCOXEN
Research Associate
Albany Institute of History and Art
page 37

Material Culture in the Seventeenth-Century Dutch Colonial Manuscripts

DR. CHARLES GEHRING
Editor and Translator
New Netherland Project, New York State Library
page 43

*The Fort Orange "EB" Pipe Bowls:
An Investigation of the Origin of American Objects in Dutch Seventeenth-Century Documents*

MARGRIET DE ROEVER
Documentalist and Archivist
Associate of the Municipal Archives of Amsterdam
page 51

New York Colonial Inventories: Dutch Interiors as a Measure of Cultural Change

RUTH PIWONKA
Historian and Museum Consultant
page 63

Netherlands' Popular Culture in the Knickerbocker Works of

Washington Irving
ELIZABETH PALING FUNK
Adjunct Professor
Manhattanville College
Consultant, IBM Corporation
page 83

*Transforming Old World Dutch Culture
in a New World Environment:
Processes of Material Adaptation*

DR. RODERIC H. BLACKBURN
Assistant Director
Albany Institute of History and Art
page 95

The Dutch Kast and the American Kas: A Structural/Historical Analysis

JOYCE GEARY VOLK

PhD Candidate in American Decorative Arts
New York University
page 107

Remembrances of the Dutch Homeland in Early New York Provincial Painting

MARY BLACK

Consulting Curator
Museum of American Folk Art
page 119

*Culture of Living on the Canals in a Dutch Town in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries:
the Rapenburg in Leiden*

DR. C. WILLEMIJN FOCK

Professor of the History of Decorative Arts Leiden University
page 131

The Netherlands Town House:

How and Why it Works

HENK J. ZANTKUYL

Architect of the Municipal Office for Preservation and Restoration of Historical Buildings and Sites, Amsterdam
page 143

Form and Function in The Netherlands' Dutch Agricultural Architecture

PIET VAN WIJK

Director of the Institute for Documentation and Research of Agricultural, Vernacular Architecture Arnhem
page 161

Rural Architecture: The Zaan Region of the Province of North Holland

JAAP SCHIPPER

Architect, Amsterdam and Zaandam
page 171

Dutch-American Farming: Crops, Livestock, and Equipment, 1623-1900

DAVID STEVEN COHEN

Research Associate and Director of Ethnic History Program
New Jersey Historical Commission
page 185