

Contents

Introduction	7
RUDOLF DEKKER
Food for Thought : Hieronymus Wolf Grapples with the Scholarly Habitus	21
GADI ALGAZI
”When I was alive”: Jewish Ethical Wills as Egodocuments	45
AVRIEL BAR-LEVAV
Autobiographical Reading and Writing: the Diary of David Beck (1624)	61
JEROEN BLAAK
Emigration and Memory: After 1685 and After 1789	89
CAROLYN CHAPPELL LOUGEE
The Limitations of Family Tradition and the Barrier between Public and Private: Karoline von Hessen-Darmstadt’s “Schreib=Calender” between Almanac and Diary	107
HELGA MEISE
Besides Benjamin Franklin: Autobiography in America, 1750-1800	125
STEPHEN CARL ARCH
John Wesley, Superstar: Periodicity, Celebrity, and the Sensibility of Methodist Society in Wesley’s Journal (1740-1791)	137
MICHAEL MASCUCH
Autobiography and Family Memory in the Nineteenth Century	161
ARIANNE BAGGERMAN
Online Diaries and Websites on Egodocuments	175
GERARD SCHULTE NORDHOLT
The authors	185
Acknowledgements	189