

Contents

1	Introduction: existence of a linguistic Frauenwelt .....	1
1.1	Preliminary observations .....	1
1.2	Outline of methodology: historical and political discourses.....	4
1.3	Outline of semantic theories.....	7
1.4	Female discourse: a theoretical framework .....	18
1.5	Historical background .....	30
1.6	Linguistic background to National Socialist discourse.....	45
1.7	Linguistic background to female discourse in National Socialism.....	66
2	Morpho-semantic analysis.....	74
2.1	Aspects of word-formation in female discourse .....	74
2.2	Frau .....	79
2.3	Mutter .....	109
2.4	Use of the -in suffix .....	122
2.5	Summary of word-formation in female discourse.....	139
3	Lexico-semantic analysis.....	141
3.1	Thematic Categories .....	141
3.2	Women and the NSDAP .....	141
3.3	Women and the Volksgemeinschaft .....	176
3.4	Women and Motherhood, Women and Work.....	230
4	Textual analysis .....	269
4.1	Power, status and influence in female correspondence.....	269
4.2	Historical and theoretical background .....	270
4.3	Women's correspondence in National Socialism: general characteristics .....	277
4.4	Analysis of six letters .....	284
4.5	Letters from women to men.....	289
4.6	Letters from women to women .....	301
4.7	Summary .....	313
5	Conclusion .....	316
	Appendix I: Letterheads .....	321
	Appendix II: Women's Letters .....	322
	List of Abbreviations .....	331
	Bibliography .....	332
	Index .....	349