

Through a Speculum That Shines

VISION AND IMAGINATION
IN MEDIEVAL JEWISH MYSTICISM

---

• ELLIOT R. WOLFSON •

---

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

---

• C O N T E N T S •

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| ACKNOWLEDGMENTS   | ix  |
| INTRODUCTION   | 3   |
| CHAPTER ONE"Israel: The One Who Sees God"—Visualization of Godin Biblical, Apocalyptic, and Rabbinic Sources | 13  |
| CHAPTER TWOVision of God in Mystical Sources: A Typological Analysis   | 52  |
| CHAPTER THREEVisionary Ascent and Enthronement in the Hekhalot Literature  | 74  |
| CHAPTER FOURTheories of the Glory and Visionary Experiencein Pre-Kabbalistic Sources                         | 125 |
| CHAPTER FIVEḤaside Ashkenaz: Veridical and Docetic Interpretationsof the Chariot Vision                      | 188 |
| CHAPTER SIXVisionary Gnosis and the Role of the Imaginationin Theosophic Kabbalah                            | 270 |
| CHAPTER SEVENThe Hermeneutics of Visionary Experience: Revelationand Interpretation in the Zohar             | 326 |
| CONCLUSION   | 393 |
| APPENDIXManuscripts Cited  | 399 |
| SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY OF PRIMARY SOURCES CITED  | 401 |
| SELECT BIBLIOGRAPHY OF SECONDARY SOURCES CITED  | 409 |
| INDEX  | 439 |