

Contents

Introduction	1
---------------------	----------

1 Classic Detective Fiction	12
The turn of the century: Sherlock Holmes and his contemporaries	20
Classic detection in the inter-war years	37
Transforming the tradition in the 1950s and 1960s	53

2 Hard-Boiled Detective Fiction	66
The Black Mask boys	76
The mid-century paperback revolution	86
Contemporary investigations	98

3 Transgression and Pathology	112
The Prohibition-era gangsters	119
The killers inside us	127
Serial killers, pathologists, and police procedurals	138

4 Crime Fiction as Socio-political Critique	158
Despairing of the Depression	165
Despoiling Florida	174
The politics of self-enrichment	183

5 Black Appropriations	196
‘A Harlem of my mind’	205
Writing the other Los Angeles	216
Diasporic identities in contemporary Britain	227
Detectives, mammies, bitches, and whores	235

6	Regendering the Genre	242
	Mothering feminist crime fiction in the 1970s	253
	Butch v. femme in the Reaganite 1980s	262
	Unsolved crimes of the 1990s	280
	Into the twenty-first century	287
	Select Bibliography	290
	Index	305