

Contents

Preface	v-vi
Introduction	vii-xvi
The Texts as Source	x-xii
External Context	xii
Internal Context	xii-xiii
Semiotic Context	xiv-xv
Limited Aims	xv-xvi
Chapter One: The Edited Text	1-43
Introduction to the Texts	1-5
Social and Historical Contexts	6-7
Administrative and Social Functions	8-10
The Texts	11-42
Concluding Points	42-3
Chapter Two: The Tabulation of Descriptions	44-59
Introduction to the Tabulation	44-5
Tabular Structure	45-7
Taxonomy of Descriptions and their Analytical Potential	47-9
Tabulation – Table 2:1 (Complete Descriptions)	50-3
Tabulation – Table 2:2 (Fragmentary Descriptions)	53-5
Comments on Tables 2:1 and 2:2	55
Tabulation by Garment Type and Colour/Decoration	55
Tabulation – Table 2:3 (Colour Emphasis)	56-9

Chapter Three: An Analysis of the Descriptions by Garment Type	60-71
Introducing the Garment Type Category	60-1
Membership of the Category	61-2
Inner Garment-Types	62-5
Outer Garment-Types	65-8
Miscellaneous Dedications	68-9
Substantive Descriptions as Type-Terms	69-71
Conclusions
Chapter Four: The Semiosis of Description	72-82
Introduction	72
The ‘Language’ of Clothing	72-3
Engaging with the Text	73-5
The Semiotic Analysis of Description	76-7
The Theory of the ‘Written Garment’ and its Application	77-8
The ‘Written Garment’: Codes and Variants	78-82
Chapter Five: An Analysis of the Categories	83-102
Introduction	83
Table 5:1	84-90
Person	91-2
Fabric	92-6
Colour	96-8
Decoration and Coloured Decoration	98-100
Form	100-1
Conclusions	101-2
Chapter Six: Conclusions	103-5
Appendix One: Glossary	106-130
Introduction to the Glossary	106
Glossary	107-29
Glossing the Brauron Catalogues	130

Appendix Two: Translation	131-47
Introduction to the Translation	131
Translation	132-47
Appendix Three: Index of Names
Order of Occurrence (Complete Names)	148-52
Index of Complete Names	153-56
Index of Fragmentary Names	157-58
Bibliography	159-173