

---

I	The Early Humanist Tradition in Italy	1
	The Political Histories of the Italian Humanists
	Humanist Views of the History of Literature and Art
II	The Humanist Tradition as Altered by Northern Humanism and the Reformation	29
	The Patriotic Historians in the North
	The Erasmian Humanists
	Protestant and Catholic Interpretations
III	The Later Humanist Tradition and the Crystallization of Concepts	59
	Vasari and la Rinascita dell'Arte
	Pierre Bayle and la Renaissance des Lettres
	Cellarius and the Medium Aevum
IV	The Rationalist Tradition in the Eighteenth Century	78
	The Historical Philosophy of the Enlightenment
	Voltaire and the French Rationalists
	The English Rationalists
	The German Rationalists
	The Humanist Tradition Continued in Italy

V	The Romantic Reaction	113
	The Historical Philosophy of Romanticism
	The Romantic Rehabilitation of the Middle Ages
	The Italian Renaissance in Romantic Belles Lettres
VI	Conflicting Trends and the Beginnings of a Periodic Concept	133
	The Renaissance in the History of Art
	The Renaissance in the History of Literature
	The Renaissance in Cultural History: the Liberal and Idealist Traditions
VII	Burckhardt and the Formation of the Modern Concept	179
	Burckhardt's Ideological Background and Historical Method
	The Civilization of the Renaissance in Italy
VIII	The Burckhardtian Tradition in the Interpretation of the Italian Renaissance	195
	Historical Trends in the Half-Century after 1860
	General Interpretations of the Italian Renaissance in the Half-Century after 1860
	The Later Burckhardtian Tradition as Altered by Intellectual, Social, and Economic History
	The Burckhardtian Tradition in the History of Literature and Art
IX	The Traditional Interpretation of the Renaissance in the North	253
	Problems of the Northern Renaissance
	The Renaissance in France
	The Renaissance in England
	The Renaissance in Germany

X	Reaction Against the Burckhardtian Tradition: The Origins of the Renaissance Thrust Back into the Middle Ages	290
	The General Problem and the Motives of Reaction
	Romantic-religious Reaction: the Origins of the Renaissance in Medieval Mysticism
	Romantic-Nationalist Reaction: the Origins of the Renaissance in Medieval National Cultures
XI	The Revolt of the Medievalists. The Renaissance Interpreted as Continuation of the Middle Ages	329
	The Revolt of the Medievalists
	Medieval Elements in the Literature and Weltanschauung of the Renaissance
	Devaluation of Renaissance Art and Limitation of its Chronological Scope: New Criteria of Judgment
	The Renaissance Interpreted as Continuation or Decline of the Middle Ages
XII	Conclusion	386
	Bibliography	398
	Index	409