

Contents

Preface	xv
The Organization of This Book	xvii
The Audience for This Book	xviii
Acknowledgments	xxi
Chapter 1: The Deep Changes	1
Changing the Feature Mindset	2
Changing the Technology Mindset	3
Changing Management Values	4
Sidebar: Advice for Those Considering an Investment in Usability by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	5
Changing the Process for Interface Design	6
Sidebar: Usability within Government by Janice Nall, National Cancer Institute	7
The Step-by-Step Process for Institutionalizing Usability	8
The Startup Phase	9
The Setup Phase	10
The Organization Phase	11
The Long-Term Operations Phase	12

PART I. STARTUP	15
Chapter 2: Wake-up Calls and Common Reactions	17
The Value of Usability	18
Reducing Design Cycles	19
Avoiding Building Unnecessary Functions	20
Expediting Decision Making	20
Increasing Sales	21
Avoiding “Reinventing the Wheel”	21
Avoiding Disasters	22
Sidebar: Usability within the Medical Industry by Ed Israelski, Abbott Laboratories	22
Types of Wake-up Calls	23
Train Wrecks	24
Executive Insights	25
New Staff	25
Education and Training	26
Expert Reviews	26
Sidebar: Experiencing the Wake-up Call and Beginning a Usability Process by Pat Malecek, A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc.	27
Usability Testing	28
New Technologies	28
Common Responses to Wake-up Calls	29
Relying on Good Intentions	30
Sidebar: Being an Advocate for the Process by Dana Griffith, American Electric Power	31
Relying on Testing	31
Relying on Training	32
Relying on Repair Jobs	32
Relying on Projects by Ad Agencies	32

Hiring Usability Consultants	33
Hiring New Usability Staff	33
Sidebar: Seeing the Real Numbers Creates a Call to Action Too by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	35
Chapter 3: Executive Champion	37
The Role of the Executive Champion	38
Sidebar: Why Support from Senior Management Is Crucial by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	40
Deciding to Innovate	41
Making the Change	42
Educating the Executives	43
Keeping It Moving Long Term	45
Sidebar: Getting Middle Management on Board with Usability by Janice Nall, National Cancer Institute	45
Becoming a CXO	47
Chapter 4: Selecting a Usability Consultant	49
Staffing	52
Completeness of Solution	53
Domain Expertise	54
Methodology	55
Tools and Templates	56
Size and Stability	57
Corporate Cultural Match	58
Specializations	58
Organizational Structure	60
Change Management Ability	60
Quality Control and Feedback	61
Ongoing Training for the Consultancy's Staff	62

PART II. SETUP	65
Chapter 5: Strategy	67
What to Consider When Developing the Strategic Plan	69
A Proactive Organization	70
Coordinating Internal Staff and Consultants	70
Sidebar: Consultant and Internal Group Mix by Todd Gross, Medtronic MiniMed	72
The Importance of Sequence	73
Reacting to Past Events	74
Targets of Opportunity	75
Slower Can Be Better	76
Phasing in Design Standards	77
Key Groups for Support or Resistance	78
Sidebar: Executive Support for Usability within AT&T by Felica Selenko, AT&T	79
Training	82
Methodology and Infrastructure	82
The Project Path	83
Levels of Investment	83
Chapter 6: Training	85
Types of Training	86
Sidebar: The Difference between Knowledge and Skills Training by Phil Goddard, Human Factors International	87
Knowledge Training	88
Who Should Get Knowledge Training?	89
Skills Training	90
Who Should Get Skills Training?	92
Certification	93

A Typical Training Plan	94
Conferences	96
Chapter 7: Methodology	97
What to Look for in a User-Centered Methodology	98
Sidebar: Integrating Usability into the Development Cycle, by Janice Nall, National Cancer Institute	101
An Outline of The Schaffer Method	102
The Plan Evaluation and Structure Phase	102
Know What the Organization Wants	104
Know What the Users Want	105
The Plan Standards Phase	106
The Plan Design and Implementation Phase	107
The Plan Evaluations Phase	108
Sidebar: A. G. Edwards' Usability Process and Methodology by Pat Malecek, A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc.	109
The Plan Localization Phase	110
A Quick Check of Your Methodology	110
The Challenges of Retrofitting a Development Life Cycle	111
Using Classic Methodologies	114
Retrofitting a Method That Has Added User-Centered Activities	114
Retrofitting a Development Process That Has Only Usability Testing	114
Chapter 8: Tools, Templates, and Testing Facilities	117
Introduction to Your Toolkit	118
Testing Facilities	119
Recording of Testing Sessions	122
Modeling Tools and Software	124
Data Gathering and Testing Techniques	126

The Special Needs of International Testing 128
*Sidebar: The Bollywood Method by Apala Lahiri Chavan,
Human Factors International* 129
Recruiting Interview and Testing Participants 130

Chapter 9: Interface Design Standards 135

 What Is an Interface Design Standard? 136
 Screen Design Templates 137
 Other Contents of a Design Standard 140
 The Scope of Design Standards 140
 The Value of Design Standards 143
 The Process and Cost of Developing Standards 145
 Disseminating, Supporting, and Enforcing Standards 146

Chapter 10: Showcase Projects 151

 The Value of a Showcase Project 152
 Sidebar: Gaining Acceptance for the Usability Team by Arnie Lund, Microsoft 153
 Selecting the Right Staff and Project 155
 The Right Staff 156
 The Right Project 156
 Expectations 160

PART III. ORGANIZATION 163

Chapter 11: Organizational Structure 165

 Organizational Structures for Usability Teams 168
 Decentralized Structure 168
 Matrix Structure 168
 Centralized Structure 170
 Sidebar: Being on Projects by Colin Hynes, Staples 171
 Placement of a Central Team in the Overall Organization 171

Placement within Quality Assurance	172
Placement within IT	172
Placement within Marketing	173
Placement under a CXO	176
Sidebar: An Executive Must Champion Usability by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	176
Escalation of Problems	177
Graphic Artists, Writers, and Other Usability-Oriented Staff	178
Chapter 12: Staffing	179
The Chief User Experience Executive	180
The Central Usability Organization Manager	182
The Central Usability Organization Staff	183
The Internal Consultant	184
The Documenter	185
The Specialist	186
The Researcher	189
The Usability Manager and Practitioners	190
The Creative Director and the Graphic Designer	192
Outside Consultants	194
Sidebar: The Social Security Administration's Usability Team by Sean Wheeler, The Social Security Administration	195
What to Look for When Hiring	196
Usability Skills for a General Practitioner	197
Education	200
Experience	201
Usability Background That Includes Design	202
Specialist vs. Generalist	203
Real Skills and Knowledge	204
Interpersonal Skills and Level of Expertise	205
Archetypes	205

An Offshore Model	206
The Challenges and Success Factors of Offshore Staffing	207
The Limits of Offshore Usability	209
Chapter 13: Projects	211
Doing It Right	212
Managing by Project Importance	213
Who Will Do the Usability Work?	214
Different Strategies for Practitioner Involvement	215
Working Smart	217
Efficient Project Planning	219
Sidebar: Organizational Support for Usability by Dana Griffith, American Electric Power	220
Estimating Usability Work	220
PART IV. LONG-TERM OPERATIONS	223
Chapter 14: Activities of the Established Usability Group	225
Maintaining Respect and Negotiating Effectively	226
Sidebar: The Value of a Research-Based Approach to Usability by Janice Nall, National Cancer Institute	228
Sidebar: Roadblocks in the Path to Good Usability—The IT Department by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	229
Maintaining Momentum	230
Evangelizing	230
Sidebar: The Role of the Central Usability Team by Arnie Lund, Microsoft	231
Training	233
Mentoring	234
Supporting Standards	235
Sidebar: Advocating Usability through a Strong Sense of Community by Felіça Selenko, AT&T	236
Supporting the Community	237

Performing Usability Testing	238
Focusing on Metrics	239
Having Responsibility	241
Reporting to Executives	242
Sidebar: My Nine Principles to Keep Institutionalization Motivated by Colin Hynes, Staples	243
Chapter 15: The Future	247
Symptoms of Leaping the Chasm	248
Sidebar: Usability Trends by Harley Manning, Forrester Research	249
Maturity	250
Sidebar: The Future of Usability within a Government Agency by Sean Wheeler, The Social Security Administration	250
Your Organization's Maturity	251
Level 0: Clueless	251
Level 1: Piecemeal Usability	251
Level 2: Managed Usability	252
Level 3: Infrastructure	252
Level 4: Staffing	252
Level 5: Routine Usability	252
Sidebar: A Vision of the Future of Usability by Aaron Marcus, Aaron Marcus and Associates	253
New Technologies	253
Appendix	255
References	259
Index	263