

Studies in American Jewish Literature
Volume 27, New Currents in Jewish American Literature

Daniel Walden, Editor

Contents

Introduction Daniel Walden	1
ARTICLES
“Spare, Original, and Strange”: The Religious Atheism of Hugh Nissenson Alan L. Berger	3
When Edna Ferber Was Accused of Communist Propaganda Ann Shapira	16
Rachel Calof and Jewish Immigrant Women: Between a “land of opportunity” and a “terrible new world” Kathleen Nigro	23
Marge Piercy, Jewish Poet Bonnie Lyons	34
Roth’s The Dying Animal as Homage to Malamud’s A New Life Rabbi David J. Zucker	40
The Shattered Flask: Creation Gone Awry in Bernard Malamud’s God’s Grace Donald Wolford	49
Bernard Malamud’s Works and the Japanese Mentality Hishahiro Suzuki	59
Violence, Redemption, and the Shoah Jessica Lang	69
The Overlooked Jewish Identity of Roy Cohn in Kushner’s Angels in America: American Schmucko Emily King	87
BOOK REVIEWS
The Jewish American Novel , by Philippe Codde Victoria Aarons	101

Inhumanity: Death March to Buchenwald and The Last Jews of Bendzin , by John Ranz Kenneth Waltzer	104
Recovering "Yiddishland": Threshold Moments in American Literature , by Merle L. Bachman Benjamin Schreier	106
American Talmud: the Cultural Work of Jewish American Fiction , by Ezra Cappell Miriyam Glazer	108

SPECIAL: POEMS

Villanelle (My grandmother spoke the language of briars and roses) Golem Valerie Wohlfeld	112
---	-----

SPECIAL: FICTION

Tel Aviv, A Night of Transgressions Adam Schonbrun	114
A Different Taste Sheri Bernstein	117