Acknowledgments ........................................................................................................ vii

1 | Introduction: Technology, culture, and society .............................................. 1
   Theoretical landscape | 6
   The information technology industry in the Philippines | 15
   Computerization of major Filipino companies in the 1970s | 22
   Cloning and assembly in the 1980s | 23
   Post-martial law interest in computerization and automation | 24
   Producing a work force | 25
   Value-added services | 27
   Y2K | 28
   ICT4D | 29
   Call centers | 30
   The structure of the book | 34

2 | The social distribution of knowledge in the
   Philippine information technology industry .............................................. 37
   Manifestations of a social distribution of knowledge | 41
   The emergence of intermediate developers | 43

3 | Mental maps of information technology professionals .................. 59
   The breakfast forum and the industry’s public sphere | 61
   Trajectories of migration | 77
   The glocal flavor of mental maps | 87