

CONTENTS

---

	Acknowledgments	ix
	Introduction	I
1	Democratic Discourses: Visiting the National Anti-Slavery Bazaar	18
2	Bodily Democracy: Frances Ellen Watkins and Walt Whitman Sing the Body Electric	45
3	Gender Democracy: Margaret Fuller and Sojourner Truth Argue the Case of Woman versus Women	67
4	Economic Democracy: Frederick Douglass and Henry David Thoreau Negotiate the Mason-Dixon Line	90
5	Aesthetic Democracy: Harriet Beecher Stowe and Harriet Jacobs Represent the End(s) of Slavery	118
	Conclusion	149
	Notes	161
	Works Cited	179
	Index	199